Girl dies of heart attack on the Chase

AN 11-YEAR-old girl died after suffering a cardiac arrest while out cycling on Cannock Chase.

A member of the public started CPR on the youngster ahead of paramedics arriving on the scene.

She was airlifted to Birmingham Children's Hospital but despite on board treatment they were unable to revive her.

Paramedics were called to Marquis Drive, near to the Visitor Centre, at just after 10.10am on Sunday.

Staffordshire Police Detective Inspector Becky Cawkwell said they were currently supporting the family and a report was being prepared for the coroner.

She said: "This is a very tragic and said incident. There are no suspicious circumstances."

A statement from the Forestry Commission, which has responsibility for Cannock Chase Forest: "Forestry Commission staff were made aware of a medical incident on one of Cannock Chase's forest roads involving a young girl."

"The emergency services attended and airlifted the girl to hospital. We have been made aware that sadly the girl has since died. Our thoughts are with her family."

New lead on missing man

POLICE have confirmed that personal belongings discovered in a field in Slitting Mill belong to missing man Stephen Greatrix.

Mr Greatrix, aged 45, of Rugeley, went missing in April. Officers were called last Thursday to a field off Slitting Mill Road after the items were found.

Various pieces of bone have also been recovered and will undergo specialist examination by an anthropologist. HM Coroner's office has been made aware of the find.

VIDEO SNARES FRAUD TEACHER

A PRIMARY school teacher who fiddled almost £14,000 in disability living allowance was caught out after boasting about her amazing recovery in a video posted on YouTube.

Kelly Hopton told in the video how her life had been transformed by surgery and concluded: "I went into the hospital in a wheelchair and nine days later walked out. It's a miracle."

The 35-year-old was also featured in My Weekly magazine and appeared in a photograph captioned 'delighted to be back on my feet', magistrates were told.

But after the 'miraculous' March 2011 operation she continued to claim the disability living allowance granted to her three years earlier in October 2008.

Department of Work and Pension officials said that during a review in 2010 Hopton had claimed to be so restricted by her back complaint that she even needed help to brush her teeth.

Inquiry

They said said she had difficulty bending and stretching, had to be accompanied when outdoors and used elbow crutches to get about.

Investigators from the Government department launched an inquiry last year after a tip off and secretly filmed her carrying bags of shopping and bending and stretching while on trips to Tesco and Morrisons in Lichfield. Two of these were on successive days, Burton magistrates heard.

Hopton from Park Gate Road, Cannock Wood, taught part time at Chadsmead Primary Academy in Lichfield from 2002 until 2013 and is now understood to be on the full time staff at Jerome Primary in Norton

Report by John Scott

Canes. She told the court she had lied in the YouTube video and magazine article and had been told what to say by others.

She maintained she was still in pain and had still been entitled to claim the payouts. The DWP did not dispute that she had a medical complaint or that she had previously been entitled to the benefit, but argued that her capabilities and care needs had been significantly improved by the operation.

She pleaded not guilty but was convicted of failing to report a change in circumstances in a fraud that involved illegally collecting a total of £13,886.40 disability living allowance between June 2011 and November 2013. She was fined £450 with £100 costs and a £75 victim surcharge.

Magistrates watched the YouTube interview and were shown the magazine article. They were also shown the surveillance footage of her supermarket shopping trips.

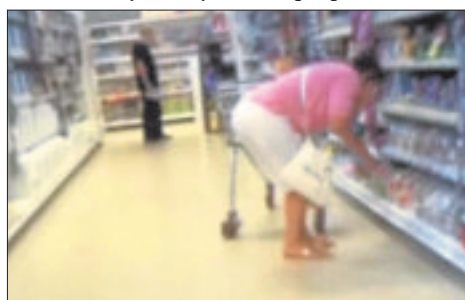

Hopton admitted lying and apologised to the magistrates but maintained that her lies had been told about the 'miracle' recovery and not employed to continue receiving benefits illegally.

Fears as Lloyds to axe branches

FEARS have been raised over the possible closure of Lloyds Bank branches across the area.

The bank has announced it is to shut 200 branches over the next three years while slashing 9,000 jobs. It claims the strategy will improve efficiency and customer service.

Bosses have not revealed which sites will close. Many facing the axe will fall in urban areas where there may be a number of branches in a small geographical area.

The closures represent around a tenth of its network of 2,000 sites.

Lloyds has branches in Cannock town centre and in Penkridge.

The bank will invest in remote advice services for customers while they will increasingly be expected to use online banking or self-service facilities within branches instead of dealing with staff face-to-face. Chief executive Antonio Horta-Orsorio said: "Over the last three years the successful delivery of our strategy has ensured that we have become a safe, highly efficient, UK-focused retail and commercial bank."

"The next phase of our strategy will use these strong foundations as a basis for meeting the rapidly-changing needs of our customers."

Uncertain future on hospital funding

THE trust which runs New Cross Hospital will officially take over Cannock Hospital this weekend after the move was approved in Parliament.

However, bosses have warned a £25 million funding package for the Brunswick Road site will dry up within three and a half years, leaving its future uncertain.

Staff at Cannock, to where all of New Cross' non-emergency surgery is being moved, will have their contracts changed to the Royal Wolverhampton NHS Trust.

The Royal Wolverhampton NHS Trust has secured £25m funding from the Government to help during the transition period.

But trust chief executive David Loughton said the funding would be gone in 29 months and it would be up to NHS England to come up a plan for the future of services following that.

He said: "This funding package dries up in 29 months. There's a lot of uncertainty for the future."

Sarah Dakin, for NHS England, said: "The most important priority for patients and staff is to ensure that patients receive high-quality and safe care, and that services are clinically sustainable."

Appeal after M-way death

POLICE have appealed for information after a man was killed on the M6 near Gailey.

It happened on the south-bound stretch, a mile before junction 12 at about 7.20pm on Monday.

The 41-year-old man from Penkridge was pronounced dead at the scene. Officers say he had been struck by 'several vehicles'.

Specialist officers will be supporting his family. The drivers of three HGVs and a van were treated for shock.

Consultation over pharmacy hours

OPENING hours could be increased at pharmacies in Staffordshire as part of plans to improve the service.

Health and council bosses are looking at whether people are happy with the current service.

They say the consultation will 'gather people's views on the service and explore how it may be improved to better meet the needs of the county'.

Consultation runs until December 14 and people are being asked how often they use their local pharmacy, why they go there and what extra services they would like to see offered.

County health chief Alan White said it was important the service met the needs of a modern day Staffordshire.

He said: "Around seven million visits are made to pharmacies every year by Staffordshire residents and this makes them ideally placed to not only help people when they are ill, but to offer advice on staying well too.

"We want to hear what people like and even what they don't like and also what services they would like to see such as better diet advice or longer opening hours and would encourage people to have their say." The consultation has been organised by Staffordshire's Health and Wellbeing Board and people can have their say at www.staffordshire.gov.uk/pharmacyconsultation

The board will use the feedback from the consultation to help ensure identify any gaps in the service and ensure pharmacies best meet the needs of residents.

Hospital set to launch overnight GP service

AN overnight emergency GP service is being launched at Stafford Hospital next year as part of the takeover by bosses in north Staffordshire.

It would be available for patients who do not require 999 but who need to be seen by a doctor. Discussions are still ongoing among health chiefs but it is expected to be in place by April next year.

New nurses are taken on from abroad

MORE than 100 foreign nurses have been recruited by health chiefs taking over services from Stafford Hospital.

Bosses at the University Hospital of North Staffordshire Hospital have taken on 120 members of staff from several European countries ahead of it taking charge of Stafford Hospital. The changeover takes place on Saturday (November 1) and the Weston Road site will become known as the County Hospital.

Some of the new workers could also end up being based in Stafford.

A team of senior nurses from UHNS visited Spain, Portugal and Italy in September. In total, 150 qualified nurses are being taken on, so another 30 need to be recruited and they will start in the new year.

UHNS chief nurse Liz Rix said: "I'm delighted to welcome the first cohort of nurses from southern Europe to University Hospital.

"Now that we are expanding the hospital and integrating with Stafford Hospital, it is important that we maintain our excellent nurse to patient ratios and maintain high quality care for all our patients in both Stoke and Stafford."

A&E will double in size to reduce overcrowding as part of a £150 million cash injection - but it will remain open for only 14 hours a day and is not expecting to treat any extra patients.

Stafford will also get a new MRI scanner and a possible new eye surgery unit and frail elderly assessment service. Outpatient facilities will be expanded, wards will be refurbished and a new operating theatre opened. Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust will be dissolved on Saturday and replaced by the University Hospitals of North Midlands NHS Trust.

Investment

Stafford MP Jeremy Lefroy said: "As a community, we have fought hard for this investment and we have been listened to.

"The tremendous work of Support Stafford Hospital and the whole community made it clear to all that we needed to keep an acute District General Hospital in Stafford. As a result, the amount being put in is about double what was originally proposed.

"But that does not mean that I will stop arguing for more local services.

"The news that an overnight doctor-led service is being considered is welcome. It would mean that adults or children who fall ill at night but do not need a 999 service can seek treatment, referral or reassurance by seeing the overnight doctor service at their hospital."

Organisers ale beer festival

MORE than 1,000 real ale fans sampled 36 beers as the popular Penkridge Beer Festival returned for a third year.

The two-day event at Peace Memorial Hall in Pinfold Lane was organised by Penkridge Round Table, which hailed it as one of the best yet.

There were 36 beers on offer, along with eight ciders and a selection of wine. Music throughout the weekend was provided by The Shine, Travellers and Fatman Alley.

One of the most popular beers was the 4.7

per cent Indianman IPA, brewed just down the road at Penkridge's Otherton Ales.

The event is staged by 24 volunteers. One of those organisers, Steve Creed, said: "Everyone will have done their bit over the weekend, whether it's pulling pints, sorting out the barrel deliveries or doing the collections.

"None of us are experts - we are all laymen at this but we all work hard at it.

"It's been a fantastic response and we are glad it's all gone so well."

Decrease in parking tickets is welcomed

THE number of parking tickets issued across the Cannock Chase district has dropped over the last year, new figures reveal.

A total of 3,283 were handed out between April and September this year, which is down from 3,926 during the same period in 2013.

Cannock Chase Council leader George Adamson said: "I can only assume the reason for the drop is that fewer people are parking illegally, which is good news."

Of the fines issued, 607 were cancelled for reasons including a blue disabled badge being displayed and officers not noticing a pay and display ticket in the window.

It comes as Cannock Council bosses look to pass responsibility for parking enforcement over to Staffordshire County Council.

Bosses in Cannock argue it is costing them too much to run locally, so they want the county authority to take it over.

Councillor Adamson said he had notified the county council that Cannock wants to pull out of the current system.

Fines can be up to £60 but reduce to £30 if paid within 14 days.

Farm fun for a good cause

A FARM in Penkridge is encouraging visitors to help it raise cash for Children In Need this weekend.

Lower Drayton Farm has dedicated Saturday and Sunday (November 1 and 2) to having fun and raising money for the cause.

Visitors are invited to dress in pyjamas or a onesie in exchange for a family day pass enabling a return visit. The farm fun will be open from 10am-4pm both days.

Admission is £4.50 adults or £2.50 children. There will be a small charge for each of the special Children in Need activities.

Christmas fair

A CHRISTMAS fair and grand draw is being held in Rugeley next month. The Church of the Good Shepherd, Hislop Road, is hosting the event on Saturday, November 22 from 1-3pm. Home-made cakes, festive gifts and crafts and a tombola will be on offer.

Initiative will help cut down on bills

A PIONEERING new community energy initiative is being launched across Cannock Chase next week.

Residents can find out more about Chase Community Solar – the first scheme in the UK aiming to put solar panels on the roofs of council properties, funded by a community share offer.

The project, supported by Cannock Chase Council, seeks to raise up to £1 million to install solar panels on between 150 and 400 council-owned bungalows. The scheme is being launched on Tuesday, November 4 at the council offices in Beecroft Road, Cannock.

The scheme can expect to save tenants between £100 and £200 a year on average on their energy bills.

Mike Kingham, chairman of Chase Community Solar, said: "We believe this is the first community energy project in the UK focusing on council house tenants."

Housing leader Councillor Frank Allen said: "Our tenants have been badly hit by rises in energy prices and through this project we can give many of them an opportunity to reduce their bills."

A second 'drop-in' event is planned for November 5, from 11am to 5pm in the council's Esperance Room.

Charity shop set to open

CUSTOMERS can grab a bargain – and help out charity – at a new shop in Hednesford.

The Marie Curie Cancer Care shop was being opened today (Thursday) at Victoria Shopping Park.

Donations of unwanted clothing, books and bric-a-brac are welcomed. Call manager Laura Bewley on 01562 824 506.

Festive treats

A RUGELEY church plays host to a local charities Christmas fair next month. Cards, crafts, gift ideas, games and Santa's Grotto will all feature at St Augustine's Church, Station Road, on Saturday, November 22 from 10am to 1pm. Refreshments will be available.

Hairdresser Sarah Moore – Rising Star

A HAIRDRESSER from Burntwood has turned on the style to be named as a 'Rising Star' finalist of a nationwide competition.

Sarah Moore, senior stylist at Anthony John Salons at Swinfen, Lichfield, beat hundreds of other contestants to reach the final stage of Creative Head magazine's '2014 It List' awards – only three years after joining the salon as the owner's first apprentice.

Sarah, aged 24, made it down to the final six candidates after submitting a portfolio of her work and an interview form detailing her career to date and her passion for the industry. Employer Tony Walmsley had to submit a 2,000-word reference to the committee of leading salon owners, key figures in the media and fashion professionals.

The ceremony was held at the Tate Modern in London and hosted by comedian Jack Whitehall.

More than 700 professionals from the hair, fashion and media industries attended, along with the team from Anthony

John Salons. Sarah said: "I'm absolutely delighted to have made it to the final stage of a nationwide competition – I can't believe how far I've come in just three years."

In 2013, Sarah was also declared the UK winner of Goldwell ColorZoom's New Talent search. As the representative for young British hairdressing, Sarah competed in the global finals in Los Angeles.

Mr Walmsley said: The whole team is incredibly proud of her and we're excited to see what the future holds for Sarah."

Crematorium proposed at land near truck stop

LAND next to a truck stop on the A5 in Cannock has been earmarked for the town's first crematorium.

Under the proposals, a crematorium, chapel and a 75-space car park will be built just behind the Truckers Rest cafe. Bosses there say the business, which opened in the 1950s, will not be affected and will remain open.

A separate access road will be built for the crematorium.

Footpaths and a memorial garden with a water feature at its centre is also included in the proposed scheme.

If approved, it will be open Monday to Saturday from 10am to 5pm and Sundays from 10am to 1pm.

Welcoming the plans, Cannock Chase Council leader George Adamson said: "This is definitely needed in Cannock."

Tranquil

"The nearest crematorium at the moment is either Stafford or Stretey. I know at certain times of the year there is a long wait for families especially around winter so this would certainly help with that."

In plans to the district council from the applicant Aamer Waheed it states the scheme will create an 'attractive and tranquil environment for visitors.'

The proposals state: "The building design is innovative and will provide a well-designed and attractive building, which would be aesthetically pleasing and have no adverse impact on the surrounding environment."

By Laura Blyth

Six full-time jobs will be created if the crematorium is given the go-ahead. It emerged last week that the £300,000 extension of a cemetery in Rugeley has been hit by delays.

Work at the Stile Cop Cemetery, Rugeley, was due to start in the spring, but council bosses say it has taken more planning than anticipated. Work is expected to start next year.

A total of 1,200 plots, at a cost of £300,000, will be created at the site to cope with demand.

Other crematoriums in Staffordshire are in Fradley near Lichfield or Burton.

A decision on the Cannock plans is likely to be made in January.

Comic's hot curry quest

DINERS were forced to flee the venue when comedian Omid Djalili visited a Cannock restaurant to try its hottest curry. The comic's attempt at taking on the Crocodile Inferno at the Dilshad, in Chads Moor, was screened on the TV channel Quest last Friday.

It showed how during the preparation of the dish, the pungent fumes led to customers evacuating the Cannock Road restaurant.

Dilshad owner Tony Uddin said Omid was in a 'lot of pain' as he took on the dish.

Hosts are ready to take the airwaves

A NEW radio station covering Cannock Chase is ready to hit the airwaves next month.

Cannock Radio will be available online from November 15.

It will play music from the 1950s to 80s and bosses say there is a demand for a dedicated radio station that offers a 'new voice' for the town.

The station will broadcast from studios in Kingston Court, off Walsall Road. A test stream is currently running before transmission begins. It will be broadcast on www.cannockradio.com

Apps will also soon be available for people to listen on their mobiles. Around 15 people have been recruited to present the shows.

Mr Hughes said the focus would be on community events and stories.

"The studio is fitted out and the equipment is installed, so we are pretty much there," he said.

Presenter Geoff Anderson said: "There many talented people in Cannock and we want to give them an opportunity to showcase themselves and broadcast a positive image of the area."

THE BEST OF PETER RHODES

DIP into the chopped walnuts to coat completely then stand on the baking sheet" (From a Sunday Times recipe). I fell off.

A STUDY in China suggests that babies born from frozen embryos are more sociable than those conceived naturally. Is it mere coincidence that Eskimos are famed for their hospitality?

TOLD you so. Five months ago I wrote that the figure of 888,246 ceramic poppies planted at the Tower of London, to be sold for service charities, was too small and that "everyone who wants a ceramic poppy should be able to buy one." The alternative, I suggested was "a limited edition creating an artificial shortage and being sold online for obscene profits." Sure enough, all 888,246 poppies – one for every British warrior killed in the First World War – have now been snapped up. Thousands of folk will be disappointed. Watch out for the profiteering to begin.

SCIENTISTS in San Diego did a sneaky thing. They questioned elderly folk about how much booze they consumed in a week – and then checked the answers against the empty bottles in their bins. You will not be surprised to learn that the number of empties was more than the old 'uns admitted to. It is high time another group of scientists examined the phenomenon noticed by so many of us. If you leave empty bottles in a bin for more than a few days, they start breeding.

RESEARCHERS in the US city of Boston claim a pint of beer a day may improve a man's fertility. But don't overdo it. As Shakespeare warned us, long before Boston was even founded, alcohol "provokes the desire but takes away the performance."

IF you wanted to make a new Dad's Army movie, no-one could hope for a better cast than Tom Courtney, Michael Gambon, Blake Harrison and the others now assembled on the set at Bridlington. The real question is why anyone would want to make a new Dad's Army movie when the original (1971) is perfect.

A REPORT on the BBC website tells us something about the connection between so-called bush meat and the Ebola virus. Experts believe there is a risk of the contagion being passed in the meat of bats, gorillas, chimpanzees and other African delicacies. So how does this affect us? To see the other half of the story, you have to dig out a BBC undercover report from 2012 which found "shocking" quantities of illegal and "potentially unsafe" meat being sold to the public in London. Or you could talk to experts like the wildlife charity Born Free which estimates that 7,500 tons of bushmeat products enters Britain every year, most of it in the suitcases of travellers from Africa. More than half of the illegal meat is distributed through wholesalers or sold at local street markets. So as you are reading this there's a good chance that someone, somewhere in Britain is sitting down to a meal of African ape or fruit bat - containing God knows what.

WHAT'S up, Doc? Christmas come early? The plan, announced yesterday, to pay GPs £55 for every case of dementia they diagnose is wide open to abuse. When some senior GPs warn that it may lead to patients being wrongly diagnosed, what they are actually saying is that they don't trust some of their colleagues. So can we at least insist on one tiny check? If some doctors are found to be diagnosing far more dementia than other practices, let's send in HM Revenue & Customs to have a good close look at their financial affairs. We'd be mad not to.

Head joins PM at school celebration

THE head of an academy in Penkridge joined the Prime Minister at a special event to celebrate the success of free schools.

Lorraine Makin, principal of the Rural Enterprise Academy, which opened in September 2012, visited Lancaster House in London for the reception organised by the education charity New Schools Network.

Among the guests were David Cameron and the Secretary of State for Education Nicky Morgan.

The academy, based at South Staffordshire College's Rodbaston Campus, opened in 2012 and is the UK's only dedicated land-based academy. It hosts an open evening on November 24 from 6pm to 8pm.

Mrs Makin said: "The Rural Enterprise Academy is an inspired idea. It represents a collaboration of skills and experience which would be hard to replicate."

Natalie Evans, director of New Schools Network, added: "The Rural Enterprise Academy is one of more than 360 free schools now open or approved to open in England.

"Free schools are continuing to prove popular with parents, and are adding good new school places to their local communities."

Family in battle to beat liver condition

By Adam Burling

A CHASETOWN family wants to raise as much money and awareness as possible after being struck by an hereditary disease.

Thirty-seven-year-old Craig Turner and his three-year-old son Charlie are both being treated for polycystic kidney disease.

Mr Turner's father Phillip died of a brain haemorrhage caused by the disease 14 years ago, aged 42, and his grandmother Jean died before him of the same condition.

Debbie Turner, Craig's sister, is also suffering from the disease, which causes cysts to grow on the kidneys.

The family is concerned there is not enough awareness and Craig's wife, 33-year-old Kay is raising money for the Polycystic Kidney Charity in the hope that new drugs will be developed to battle the condition.

Craig found out he had the disease when he was being checked by doctors after volunteering to donate a kidney to his sister. Shortly after Kay found out she was pregnant and discovered unborn Charlie would have the same condition.

The disease can have varying levels of seriousness – but there is little medication available to treat it at its more serious stages.

It can cause enlargement of the kidneys and also damage the liver, pancreas and, in some rare cases, the heart and brain.

Kay, aged 33, said: "Charlie is very healthy at the moment but next month we will find out how big the cysts are growing."

She has already generated £1,000 and hopes more donations will flood in. She took part in the Great Birmingham Run and has staged a fundraising day that saw her brother Phillip get his eyebrows waxed off.

Kay plans to take part in more charity runs but says she needs 'as much help as possible'. To donate visit www.justgiving.com/kay-turner.2

Saddling firm is on move to new unit

A COMPANY which provides saddle trees to some of Europe's top saddle makers has moved to new premises in Burntwood.

Lariot Europe Ltd has moved to a 6,775 sq ft unit at Burntwood Business Park. It has moved from its previous headquarters in Aldridge, Walsall after agreeing a 10-year lease.

Gaynor Lorenzo, of Lariot Europe, said new premises were needed for the next stage of the firm's growth.

She said: "We had been looking for new premises for a while as we wanted somewhere that offered modern manufacturing facilities.

"The units at Burntwood Business Park met our specification criteria perfectly and will enable us to continue growing the company and offering the best products to our customers across the world.

"We will also be looking at recruiting extra staff early in the new year."

Paula James, sales negotiator at unit managers London & Cambridge Properties said there had been a significant upturn in the number of businesses looking to relocate there.

She said: "We are pleased that such a prestigious company was attracted to the facilities here."

No surprise at slowdown

A BUSINESS chief says he is disappointed, but not surprised that growth of the economy has slowed down.

Gross Domestic Product growth in July to September was 0.7 per cent, down from 0.9 per cent for the previous three months.

Chris Plant, director of Cannock Chase Chamber of Commerce said: "It is disappointing that GDP growth slowed in the third quarter, but not surprising in view of recent data.

"But it is important to put this slowdown into context – the economy is still growing at a satisfactory pace."

Recycle calendars

MORE than 40,000 waste and recycling calendars will be distributed throughout Cannock Chase from the beginning of November. They are also available online at www.cannockchasedc.gov.uk. Residents are warned that collections dates will vary over the festive period.

Pumpkin Patrol in return to district

A CAMPAIGN aimed at raising awareness of the nuisance and dangers associated with Bonfire Night throughout Cannock Chase has returned.

The Cannock Chase District Council initiative saw significant fall in reports of bad behaviour in its launch year.

The Pumpkin Patrol scheme also addresses trick-or-treaters who can distress members of the community.

The authority is joining with the police and the fire service on the campaign and will be taking to the streets in a specially designed vehicle, handing out safety information and providing tips to residents.

It will travel through Cannock, Hednesford and Rugeley until November 7.

Chief Inspector, Stephen Morrey, of Cannock Chase Local Policing Unit, said: "We want to support people having a good time at Halloween but we need to balance that against those people who take things too far, harassing and frightening members of our communities."

A special Firework Hotline is has also been set up to answer any legal questions residents have about bonfire nights on 0845 40 20 334.

Limit on car park imposed

COUNCIL chiefs have launched talks with Aldi after a two-hour parking limit was imposed at its car park in Hednesford.

Cannock Chase Council says fewer people are now using the Rugeley Road car park - prompting fears of a knock-on effect for other businesses.

Shoppers could be fined by a private enforcement firm if they overstay the limit. A report to the council states: "Aldi have been informed that their decision to reduce the time limit without prior consultation is unacceptable."

Half-term fun

YOUNGSTERS have been enjoying half-term activities at Cheslyn Hay Leisure Centre this week. The Saredon Road centre has put on physical junior boxing and cricket sessions to educational learning with a Supreme Science workshop and an animal man visit.

Youngsters hunt 'spooks' in museum visit

Year Five Chase View Primary School pupils outside Oak House Museum, West Bromwich

RUGELEY pupils spent the day ghost-hunting at a West Bromwich museum.

The Year Five youngsters from Chase View Primary visited Oak House Museum as part of the Spooks (Society for the Prevention of Occupancy of Castles and Stately Homes) programme they are following in their literacy lessons.

Oak House, an original Tudor mansion dating back more than 500 years, is reportedly haunted and a regular venue for ghost hunters. Teacher Paul Moberley said it was seen as the ideal location to film a DVD linked to the children's project. The children were taken on a guided tour of the house and in each room told about the paranormal activities and ghostly goings-on.

These included the mystery of the moving salt cellar in the dining room, strange noises in the scullery, the maid who got her revenge on the evil lord of the manor upstairs in the bedroom, the mysterious holes and scratches in the parlour and the ghostly image of the jester who detaches his head and does football style 'keepie uppies' in the gallery. While in the parlour the children took part in a seance - holding hands in the eerie silence and identifying strange noises and vibrations.

Armed with a range of ghost hunting devices, the children then toured the house in groups to see if they could locate or even trap any of the unwelcome visitors to the mansion.

"While many of them came close and claim to have seen and heard unexplained sights and sounds they left with the ghosts apparently still in residence," said Mr Moberley.

Leisure boost as user figures on the increase

THE leader of Cannock Chase Council has hailed an increase in visits to the district's fitness centres, swimming baths and golf courses.

Latest figures show the number of visitors during spring was 'significantly' up on last year.

They reveal that almost 16,000 more trips were made to the district's leisure facilities over April, May and June.

Players in Christmas production

A LEADING Cannock Chase drama group is getting into the festive spirit with its latest production.

Alan Ayckbourn's Seasons Greetings is the latest work by The Tower Players. It takes place at The Rose Theatre, Taylors Lane, Rugeley on November 6 and 7 from 7.30pm each night.

Tickets are £7, on either boxoffice.towerplayers.co.uk or by calling 07731 397 336. It tells of Christmas in the Bunker household. It is the season for bickering relatives, drunken mishaps and fumbblings, and an ill-conceived puppet show that no one wants to see as all those yuletide traditions meet with disaster in a riotously funny take on a 'normal' family Christmas.

Tower Players often have a distinctly local flavour with previous shows including original works about the local mining industry, the First World War military camps and the infamous Hednesford wife murderer Harry Gaskin.

They have also had a go at Shakespeare, Pinter and pantomime.

Gym membership also went up by almost four per cent compared to the same time in 2013.

The swimming lesson programme has had to be extended by two weeks due to demand, and even the number of rounds of golf played is 7.5 per cent higher than last year.

Council leader George Adamson said: "It's great news. The figures are really encouraging and, of course, the more people using health and fitness facilities means less pressure on the NHS."

Difference

The combined number of visits to Chase and Rugeley leisure centres rose to more than 187,000 over the quarter, an increase of seven per cent, or the equivalent of 12,564 visits.

But, while attendance at Rugeley's fitness suite soared by 32 per cent, visits to Cannock's Stafford Road gym fell by 10 per cent. Council officers blamed the dip on a new 24-hour gym opening nearby.

The provision of swimming lessons at both sites has continued to grow - by six per cent at Chase and five per cent at Rugeley, while fine weather over the spring months and the good condition of the greens helped Cannock Park Golf Course see a surge in membership.

Sister act as stage school launched

Sisters Mia-Jay, left, and Marni-Lee Clarkson, who are opening M3 Studio's Performing Arts School in Cannock

TWO Penkridge sisters are to launch their own stage school after tasting success on the small screen and the West End.

Mia-Jay and Marni-Lee Clarkson starred in the CBBC reality series School for Stars when they were students at the Italia Conti performing arts school, in London.

The girls also reached the X Factor boot camp stage in 2012 with It Girls.

Now they are share their talents with youngsters by opening their very own M3 Studios, in Cannock. They will teach all aspects of musical theatre, including ballet, tap, jazz, street and contemporary dance and acting at the centre at Cannock Hockey and Cricket Club.

The siblings who are currently employed in a showgirl act at the Steam & Rye club, owned by model and presenter Kelly Brook.

"It has always been a dream of mine to open my own dance school," said Mia-Jay, aged 22. She has played the lead role of Sandy in Grease in the West End while Marni-Lee, 20, has played Marty. They have also performed at the Royal Albert Hall.

They will share teaching duties with Mia-Jay's partner Dominic Smith, 25, who is currently touring with Jersey Boys.

There will be free open days at the studio on November 15 and 16. It will be open on Saturdays only until January when midweek classes will begin. They will follow The Imperial Society of Teachers of Dancing (ISTD) grades and examination syllabus. Classes cost £4 per hour.

Bureau offering free debt advice

SOUTH Staffordshire Citizens Advice Bureau is holding regular free advice sessions on such matters as debt, welfare reform and housing problems.

The free, impartial advice is on offer to any resident living or working within the district. Among the venues are Cheslyn Hay and Penkridge.

Cheslyn Hay Village Hall in Pinfold Lane is the venue on Wednesdays from 10am to 4pm.

Penkridge sessions are held on Thursdays at the Haling Dene Centre, Cannock Road, from 9.30am to 12.30pm.

Festive fair in aid of Salvation Army

FESTIVE gifts are going on sale at a seasonal fair.

Hednesford Salvation Army is staging the event at its Anglesey Street base from 10am to 1pm on Saturday, November 15.

On sale will be handmade cards, crafts, toys, books, cakes and gift packs, while Father Christmas will be in his grotto.

Admission to the fair is free, but entry to the grotto is £2. To hire a stall call 01543 426128.

Proceeds will go towards the Salvation Army's work.

A double dose of The bad Rats

IRISH influenced six-piece band The Bad Rats have two gigs on successive nights.

They are performing a Halloween show at the Ascot Tavern, Longford Road, tomorrow night (Friday) with Among My People providing the support.

Tonight (Thursday) The Bad Rats have a date at the Robin 2 in Bilston, supporting The Anti Nowhere League.

Firm invests in new equipment

A CANNOCK company has announced £10.5million investment plans.

Briggs, based at Orbital Way, is spending the money on a new fleet of vehicles including reach trucks, order pickers and pallet trucks.

This year alone, Briggs has already spent more than £50.5m on new equipment.

IN MY VIEW

with Mark Andrews

THE landlord of my local insists these are genuine answers to a popular Black Country pub quiz: (Q) Name the capital of the Republic of Ireland, beginning with the letter 'D' (A) Belfast (Q) Which group of islands are sometimes known as Malvinas? (A) Boyzone. Any more entries gratefully received...

A COUPLE of weeks ago, some of you may remember that I made a prediction regarding the new series of The Apprentice. I ventured that, given that this year's series had a record 20 candidates, and was scheduled to run for just 14 episodes, that we should not be too surprised if the honourable Lord Sugar would lose his paddy from time to time and spontaneously fire contestants on a whim.

By the end of the second week, five candidates have got the bullet, and the ennobled one is firing like Bodie out of the professionals. So just call me Con-fucius.

And here is another prediction. Sometimes during the series, Lord Sugar will turn up at the crack of dawn in order to treat us to the sight of the dishevelled-looking hopefuls being briefed in their pyjamas and odd socks.

The Apprentice is now in its 10th series, and those taking part are supposed to be some of the sharpest and shrewdest young minds in the country. Has it never crossed any of their minds that it might be a good idea to keep a shirt and trousers by the side of the bed, just in case?

TOM Jones is offering fans the opportunity to buy advanced tickets for concert dates, right up until he reaches the ripe old age of 103.

Some people have suggested this might be a bit presumptuous, and I tend to agree. Selling tickets a year in advance is always a risky business.

GIVEN that we are constantly told we are sitting on an economic timebomb caused by the growing health needs of an ageing population, whoever thought it would be a good idea to offer GPs a double-glazing-style bonus for diagnosing Alzheimer's?

MOTHER-of-three Michelle Hall claims she is allergic to Simon Cowell.

"As soon as he walked on stage wearing those trousers pulled up to his chest, grinning demonically and winking, I felt a sweat coming on."

Indeed, so severe is her condition, that the 43-year-old claims she screams, sweats and vomits every time the X-Factor comes on television.

Get to the back of the queue, love.

Curtain goes up on theatre's 30th

Cannock's theatre, given its name after a Royal visit, is celebrating 30 years. MARK SHIPP reports

KEN Dodd, Bernard Manning, Ray Davies and The Damned, George Best and Chas and Dave – some of the names that have put Cannock's theatre on the map.

The Prince of Wales Centre is marking 30 years this autumn and a host of familiar names will again take to the stage.

The theatre owes its name to a Royal visitor, Prince Charles, who dropped in on the town and at St Luke's Church, for a Silver Jubilee flower festival back in 1977.

The venue, standing opposite the church in the heart of town, was first considered in 1981 to replace The Forum. In a programme to mark its opening night, on September 19, 1984, the then district council chairman John O'Leary said: "The project was made possible by the vision and horizons of councillors who purchased property and land in Cannock town centre. This Prince of Wales Centre is as much a tribute to them as it is to us."

Showcase

Comedian Roy Walker acted as emcee as the curtain came up on the opening night. Councillor O'Leary said the 450-seat venue would cater for a wide range of activities as well as housing the local amateur dramatic and operatic societies.

That pledge was echoed by current manager Richard Kay. He said while the theatre was keen to put on the professional shows there would always be a place for the local groups to showcase their material. Mr Kay, who has spent

Manager Richard Kay ahead of its new season at the Prince of Wales

25 years at the Church Street venue, said: "While it is always good to put on the professional shows, we always like to make sure the local amateur groups are represented."

Indeed, one of the venue's earliest bills shows productions from St Luke's Drama Society and Cannock Chase Drama Society – both of whom are regular performers today.

Other regular acts have included Raymond Froggatt and Dominic Kirwan, who will both be back on stage to mark the 30th anniversary programme.

Froggatt is himself celebrating 50 years in the business, while Kirwan marks a personal 25 year milestone.

The Irish crooner once let down his legion of fans when he was stuck in traffic on the motorway one year, but the story had a happy ending.

Mr Kay said: "He was due to perform one night but was held up by an accident on the M1."

"We delayed it as long as possible but then had to cancel with 400 women in the audience. We were expecting a mutiny when we announced it, but everyone was just concerned whether he was okay. We rescheduled and a week later he was back."

One cancellation that did cause problems, however, was the Black Dyke Mills Band, who called off their gig at the 11th hour, leading to what Mr Kay said was a 'logistical nightmare'.

"This was in the days before e-mails and computerised booking systems, so we had no way of telling people in advance. We had to wait for them to turn up to let them know and issue them with refunds."

The legendary George Best is remembered for his appearance with football pal Rodney Marsh. Mr Kay was instructed to send someone to pick the pair up from New Street Station and was under strict orders to not stop at any pub on the way. The star did make it to Cannock's Royal Oak, however.

One visitor to the Ray Davies concert holds the record for the longest travelled to see a Prince of Wales concert, coming from Amsterdam to see the Kinks' frontman, staying overnight in Cannock and then travelling back the next day.

Protested

One particular memory of Mr Kay's is when the town came to a standstill as a Beatles tribute band performed on the roof. And then there was the time a religious group protested outside the venue at the Reduced Shakespeare Company's Bible production.

Two years ago Wigan Leisure and Culture Trust took over the management of the theatre from the council in a 10-year deal. And Mr Kay said he was hopeful the theatre could continue to draw in the crowds for years to come.

Throughout its presence, staff have remained loyal, another factor in its success, says Mr Kay. Two employees, Sandra Conroy and Jim Gray-Davis, have even been there since the beginning.

Others on the bill to mark the anniversary have included Ann Breen, Derek Acorah and the Lindisfarne Story.

WEEK IN POLITICS

with Daniel Wainwright

ED Miliband has made a wise choice bringing Pat McFadden back to his front bench as shadow Europe minister.

The Paisley-born MP for Wolverhampton South East knows only too well about campaigns to keep families of nations together. He went up north to urge his fellow Scots to stay in the UK. And now he's making the hard-headed, patriotic case for the UK to stay in the EU.

While Labour is sticking firmly to holding a referendum only in the event of a transfer of power to Brussels, Lichfield Tory MP Michael Fabricant thinks one is 'inevitable'. The big question is going to be who will lead the various sides.

Even Eurosceptics on the Tory benches won't want to concede the 'out' campaign to Nigel Farage. Nor would UKIP want the Conservatives they've been fighting against to carry the standard on their core policy.

As for the 'in' campaign, should it eventually happen, Mr McFadden is a good choice, if not to lead it, then to be very prominent within it. He's someone who brings with him a wealth of experience and connections with the business world and can talk up the economic impact of an 'out' vote.

This is a Labour MP, from the party that wants to hit the bankers hard for their part in the financial crisis, who was also able to get the former RBS boss Stephen Hester to visit Wolverhampton and talk to business people.

Those contacts, incidentally, came in handy when he and fellow Wolverhampton MP Paul Uppal were campaigning separately to get the Barbara Hepworth Rock Form statue put back in the Mander Centre. RBS owns the statue.

It will be up to Pat McFadden to make the most of this new role. The Europe question is a complicated one. In the wrong hands this shadow brief is a poisoned chalice.

The Conservatives are trying to not only hold on to seats they won in 2010 but gain others to give David Cameron the majority that eluded him.

Even so, it is probably beyond ambitious to expect to win in Warley, part of Labour stronghold Sandwell where there is just a single Conservative councillor out of 72.

The Tories quietly merged the former Warley Conservative Association with others to form a Sandwell Federation. Tory high command says it was a democratic decision taken locally to merge the groups.

Some former members are not happy. They want their association back. Ewart Johnson is one of those.

He's stood for election 20 times and never won once. Whatever your political stance, that's real dedication to the cause.

Give offenders chance, says justice secretary

JUSTICE Secretary Chris Grayling says businesses should see through the 'stigma' around criminals and consider giving them a job.

On a visit to Cannock last week, he urged employers to follow the example of cobbler Timpson and car parts seller Halfords in offering training to people who have been in prison.

Mr Grayling was visiting Pertemps in Cannock, which has been helping offenders gain the skills they need for work. The company has worked with around 6,000 offenders across the West Midlands.

Mr Grayling, who was accompanied by Cannock Chase prospective Tory candidate Amanda Milling, said: "There's a stigma around offenders and it's something we need to overcome."

"Although there are a number of deeply unpleasant people who have come into the criminal justice system, there are a lot more who have lost their way in life and need a chance to get themselves back together."

Workshops

"It is an employer that can give these people a chance to do that," he said. "There is an overwhelming desire among many offenders to get a job and keep it."

"That enthusiasm can make all the difference. And I'd encourage employers to follow the example of Timpson and Halfords who have established workshops in prisons."

Mr Grayling said he was confident that Stafford Prison would cope, despite concerns raised by an independent monitoring board about the impact of cuts.

And he believes the £150 million Oakwood super-prison near Wolver-

Justice Secretary Chris Grayling, centre, visits Pertemps in Cannock. With him is Conservative Prospective Parliamentary Candidate Amanda Milling hampton is 'sorting itself out' after inspections revealed problems with violence, drug and alcohol use. He said he was 'confident' the privately run prison would be given a clean bill of health, despite concerns over its performance.

HMP Oakwood, which houses 1,600 inmates, was criticised by inspectors last year for high levels of violence and for alcohol and drug use among prisoners, while a more recent report has said it has improved it is still classed as 'of concern'.

However Mr Grayling said he believes the prison, run by private firm G4S, is 'sorting itself out'.

Wolverhampton's Young Offenders Institute Brinsford is also getting help from troubleshooters after an inspection found inmates living in dirty cells with graffiti, some without window panes and exposed to the elements.

Mr Grayling said: "Oakwood has been through what every expert says are classic challenges for a new prison. "But Oakwood is improving. And I'm confident that it will show improvement when we see the next report. Oakwood is simply something new that is sorting itself out."

"Brinsford is not satisfactory but it's been getting special attention. With Stafford we are dealing with difficult financial challenges."

"With staffing we have taken an approach based on a benchmark designed by prison governors themselves."

8 Chance to reward the midwives

WE keep hearing from leading Conservatives that they are on the side of 'people who work hard and want to get on in life'.

They had a chance to put that into practice with regards to a meagre one per cent pay rise for nurses and midwives. This was an opportunity for the party 'for hardworking people' to, literally, put its money where its mouth is by rewarding our nurses and midwives.

Instead, they refused to contemplate even a one per cent rise – at the same time as handing themselves an increase of 11 per cent.

When they went out on strike the government condemned the industrial action. Indeed, Edwina Currie showed the Tories' true colours when she branded striking midwives as 'disgraceful'. The party's attitude regarding this issue is proof that they are not, and cannot be, the 'party for hardworking people'.

Lack of understanding for youth service

I HAVE recently been directed towards the comments of Staffordshire's Police & Crime Commissioner on the demise of the youth service.

I must say he offers a completely different opinion now than what he displayed in 2009.

Being quizzed by Stone councillors on the closure programme he was asked: "Do you have a strategy to ease youngsters onto the right pathway with common sense policing?"

He answered: "I didn't have a youth club when I was small and I didn't go around breaking things and causing issues. I think parts of the youth service have actually reinforced those issues."

These really are immature and disgusting comments for someone in his position to be making. For me, he has a total lack of understanding of the Youth Service and its worth.

He said: "Police would support another organisation who would take over those services." In other words the police support the cuts – strange since he works for a service that is also suffering from government cuts.

Mr Ellis led the charge against Labour's reasoned changes to the youth service in 2009 and even used the youth service to help reduce anti-social behaviour. The difference in Labour's strategy was a massive consultation exercise across the county. The Tories have not even asked the people who work in the service for their views.

Dogs need to be kept on a lead

MY family and I visited Millford Common on Cannock Chase to get a bit of fresh air. As we walked around a Staffordshire Bull Terrier and a black Collie came racing towards us. These dogs were on their own.

These dogs raced off again and then came back racing back towards us again and going round us and scaring my family. They raced off again. Later, we saw these dogs again with the owner who put the Staffie on a lead as we approached them.

I said to the owner: "Your dogs came charging at us." He replied: "They would not hurt you." I said: "How do I know that, shall I take a guess?"

He became abusive towards me using foul language. Why do some owners feel it's okay to let their dogs charge at people and sniff around them, scaring family members with not even a sorry? I'm sure dogs should be on leads on Cannock Chase.

K LEWIS, Cheslyn Hay

Trek was worth it

I WOULD like to say a big thank you to everyone who helped me complete my sponsored walk from Leamington to Chasewater to raise money for guide dogs.

A special thanks to my friends at Burntwood Cannock & Lichfield fundraising branch of guide dogs and also members of my family especially Gary, Sally and my wife Barbara.

It was hard work walking 50 miles at my age but it was worth it. All of the money is not yet in but the total should be more than £1,000.

Proud of our daughter

WE are extremely proud of our 13-year-old daughter Molly, a pupil at Kingsmead School, who once again held a cake sale for Macmillan Cancer care and managed to raise an amazing amount of £233.40.

We would like to thank all the friends, family and neighbours who either donated or bought cakes to help Molly achieve this amount which helped her beat last year's figure by £80. She will be hoping to do the same again next year.

Traders' comments fair

THE Food Festival in Chadsmoor was an excellent community event and I have received good feedback. In response to traders' comments I would say that they are fair and need to be addressed. For future events, I am personally happy to facilitate meetings with traders, the council, organisers and all interested parties. Promoting local trade is vital and involving our communities is important.

'Crippling' rates ramp up pressure for skatepark

THE future of a popular skate park in Cannock hangs in the balance as the owners struggle to pay 'crippling' rates.

Rampz Skate Park, off Vine Lane, has applied to become a community amateur sports club in a bid to get an 80 per cent reduction in business rates.

Owner Wayne Lewis said: "We've been a week away from closing. We are being run into the ground."

"At the end of the day this provides exercise for kids who may not otherwise get any."

"The Government promotes exercise for young people yet we're not being helped - instead we're getting crippled with high rates."

He said Rampz had to pay £23,000 a year in business rates.

Mr Lewis, who took over the park with his brother Kevin two years ago, says it has 329 members and sees around 1,000 people a month, aged from three to 50, through its doors.

Status

The pair, both former servicemen, have successfully applied to become a not-for-profit community interest company, as apart of the process towards gaining amateur sports club status.

If the Inland Revenue gives the go-ahead, they will then be able to apply to the council for rate relief although nothing is guaranteed.

Mr Lewis, aged 49, awarded an Adjutant General's Commendation Medal in the Queen's Birthday honours list in 2000 for services to army recruitment training, said one member had lost a stone and a half in weight within six weeks of joining.

He said: "I'm passionate about giving kids a chance. Skate parks can be seen as an underground 'street' sort of activity but the majority of our kids use scooters rather than skateboards. It's mainstream stuff.

Rampz skatepark owner Wayne Lewis, from Hednesford

"The Government spends so much money on outdoor parks that can't be used in the rain and frost. Yet here we are open seven days a week."

The brothers, who employ four apprentices, expect to hear from the Inland Revenue in the next few weeks.

Cannock Council said it had been informed by Rampz it would be changing the status of the company. The council has suspended the recovery of rates on the premises until the end of November while they await the outcome.

Bob Kean, head of finance, said: "Unfortunately the council does not determine the rates payable for the building. This is determined by the valuation office agency. The council has advised the owner to contact them on this matter."

Cloudy2Clear Windows - Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes - not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Brian Stanley feels that it's all about service. "Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done."

We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole."

Cloudy2Clear service Wolverhampton and the surrounding area and Brian is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. "The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people

I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated."

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Brian a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Redundancy pay changes planned

SCHOOLS in Staffordshire will be asked to foot 70 per cent of the bill for making staff redundant if new council plans are rubber-stamped next year.

Schools currently pay 20 per cent of redundancy costs, with 50 per cent funded by the county council and 30 per cent from the centrally held Schools Budget.

The authority is planning to slash its contribution to 30 per cent from April.

The plans, to be heard in February, would mean that if a school decides to lay off a member of staff it would pay 70 per cent of any redundancy payment, with the remainder coming from the council's dedicated schools grant funding.

The authority will still make full payouts to school staff that it makes redundant.

It was one of two options given to school leaders, with the other one requiring them to pay full redundancy costs.

Council bosses say the new cost sharing agreement will relieve the impact of 'unsustainable' rising redundancy costs.

Reveller locked up for attack in club has sentence reduced

A TEENAGER who left a man partially blind in one eye after an attack in a nightclub has had his sentence cut to six months.

Judges ruled the original term handed out to Adam Broad was excessive.

Broad, of Wolverhampton Road, Penkridge attacked Ben Roche on the dancefloor of Couture club nightclub, Stafford, on December 22 last year.

Mr Roche suffered serious damage to his eye, which has caused the loss of some vision and could ultimately lead to blindness in future.

Broad admitted causing GBH and was initially sentenced to 18 months' detention at Stafford Crown Court in July. But the sentence was slashed to 12 months by appeal judges - meaning he will serve only six in custody before he is released on licence.

By Laura Blyth

Mr Justice Spencer told the court the attack happened after a flare-up on the dancefloor, where Mr Roche was dancing with a young woman. Broad had bumped into the couple a number of times, before being told to go away by Mr Roche.

As they left the dancefloor, Broad launched his attack, punching Mr Roche in the eye.

Although he lost some vision immediately, he did not think it was serious until he went back to work. Examination revealed two tears in layers beneath the retina.

Two days later, Broad was arrested. Mr Justice Spencer, sitting with Lord Justice McCombe and Mr Justice Supperstone, said: "In any view, this was an extremely serious injury."

"We think that the aggravating and mitigating factors in this case balance each other out. The appellant had no previous convictions and was of positive good character."

"This was a single blow. There was genuine remorse. It was an isolated incident. This was still a young man."

"With full credit for plea, the sentence should have been 12 months' detention and not 18 months."

Lawyers for Broad argued that his 18-month sentence was too tough, since the attack was completely out of character.

Due to sentencing rules, Broad, aged 19, will serve half of his sentence behind bars and the rest in the community on licence.

Christmas boxed up for the needy

CHRISTMAS shoppers are being asked to fill a shoebox to help youngsters in developing countries this festive season.

As part of Operation Christmas Child, shoeboxes filled with presents are sent to needy youngsters in developing and war-torn countries.

Regus, based on Watling Street in Cannock is hosting a local drop-off point from November 3 to 18 and is encouraging locals to fill a box and help children overseas in refugee camps, orphanages and homeless shelters.

Shoeboxes can be dropped off at the Regus centres on weekdays between 9am and 5pm. The appeal is run in conjunction with the Samaritan's Purse charity and those who help are asked to include both fun and educational new items.

The boxes can include a cuddly toy, tennis ball, jigsaw, yo-yo, skipping rope or small musical instrument.

Boy and girl items can also be included such as trucks, dolls and hair accessories. Educational supplies are encouraged as well as toiletries.

Singing for joy as final is reached

Hammerwich WI

THE Ta Rowdles choir is looking forward representing the Hammerwich Institute and the region at the final of the Singing For Joy competition at Birmingham Town Hall next March.

Many other things have been happening at the institute. In June Tracey Hackett of the CAB introduced members to the work of the organisation, followed by an entertaining quiz on consumer rights.

Hammerwich Ta Rowdles performed in a concert to raise funds for the Flying Horse Appeal. A total of £500 donated for the Equine Memorial at the National Arboretum at Alrewas.

In July Kate Wain spoke about Temporary Heroines which was in fact about wedding dresses.

At the end of the month was President's Evening in the form of a cheese and wine evening with the theme of a pyjama party.

In August Ann Wood let the ladies into the secrets of her career, concerts and the catastrophes she had encountered throughout her working life, particularly at Shugborough Hall.

Pat Sutton enlightened everyone to the beginnings of Troop Aid in September and the worthy work carried out to supply comforts to injured or sick servicemen.

In October the group heard how spam fortified walkers Steve Craddock and Richard Moxon raising funds for Acorns Children's Hospice while walking the Great Wall of China.

Lynne ushered in as new club president

LYNNE Tuckley is Si Cannock & District's new president-elect.

Lynne was given the chain of office by president Janis Lomas at a recent meeting. She will take over from Janis at the AGM next April. Lynne has been a Soroptimist for 15 years and has been involved with activities and events at all levels.

In her working life Lynne was an usher at Cannock Magistrates Court for many years before becoming manager of the Victim/Witness Support Service. Since her retirement she has continued to work for the community in voluntary roles at Cannock Hospital and with the Fire Service.

Lynne's main hobby is embroidery - with another club member she designed and embroidered a cloth to commemorate the club's 50th year and this year she has designed and embroidered a picture to commemorate its Diamond Anniversary.

Anne's a Diamond – so is club

FIFTY members celebrated the diamond anniversary with a three-course dinner at Shugborough Hall. Catering staff were thanked for the wonderful meal.

President Margaret Bedard welcomed members, especially the youngest Kim and oldest Dulcie who will be 90 years old in December. The president told members that the Shreshill WI

Shreshill WI

Craft Group together with Shreshill Church hosted a Macmillan Coffee event which raised £405.20.

Eleven members had a lovely day at the Autumn Council Meeting when the speaker was Police Commissioner Matthew Ellis, followed by TV presenter Anne Diamond. Chairman Denise Moreton thanked the WI for the beautiful flower arrangements provided by Carol Hood and announced she was standing down after 10 years. She was given a standing ovation.

Long-serving member of 58 years Margaret Matthews supplied the cake, but was unable to attend as she was in hospital after a fall.

12 Sport bar adds to portfolio

The Chronicle
Thursday, October 30, 2014

A FORMER top amateur boxer, now a sport bar owner, has added another venue to his growing franchise portfolio.

Cannock entrepreneur Scott Murray, who started Bar Sport back in 1998, has opened a new franchise in Braintree Essex.

It cost £300,000, has created in the region of 25 new jobs, and adds to franchises in Newbury, Maidenhead and Bromley. Venues at Southampton and Derby and one in Scotland are also in the pipeline.

Bar Sport Braintree is being run by Steve Winder, aged 22, with help from his father Richard who has experience of running a successful franchise.

Mr Murray said: "The Bar Sport franchise is growing all the time. We eventually want to open a Bar Sport in every town in the UK."

"The opening of Bar Sport Braintree is just another step along the way."

Appeal launched to create fitting space for grandson

LIKE most boys his age, Andy Speke loves nothing more than playing on his Xbox with his mates.

But the 12-year-old is in need of help. For all of his life he has lived with muscle wasting disease spinal muscular atrophy, meaning he cannot walk and relies on a wheelchair and hoists to move around.

Now he is outgrowing his specially adapted bedroom at his grandparents' home in Croydon Drive, Penkridge, where he has lived since the age of three.

Grandmother Beverley, 59, and granddad Andy, 55, want to erect a log cabin style retreat in their garden where their grandson can relax and enjoy the company of his friends in comfortable surroundings.

They previously had the house extended to accommodate the youngster, ruling out a further extension.

Suitable

The couple estimate the cost of the cabin would be around £6,000 plus extra to kit it out.

"We have looked at selling up and moving house but we just cannot find anything suitable," said Mrs Speke.

"And at our age we just do not think trying to re-mortgage the house is possible – we are to old to start borrowing money."

By Rob Gollidge

Mr and Mrs Speke are now appealing for anyone that can help them create a fitting space for Andy to have his friends round.

"We hope there may be someone who can offer some skills, or even some organisation that is willing to donate one of these cabins," Mrs Speke said.

Anyone that can help can call Mr and Mrs Speke on 01783 713 787.

Hero Clive helps to launch Poppy Appeal

Clive Smith from Hednesford at the Cenotaph in London for the launch of this year's Poppy Appeal

AN army veteran from Hednesford has helped launch the Poppy Appeal in London.

Clive Smith, who lost both his legs above the knee in a roadside explosion while serving in Afghanistan, kicked off the annual Royal British Legion appeal and said he was delighted to take part in a sunrise to sunset vigil at the Cenotaph.

The 29-year-old, who participated in the Invictus Games, said: "I'm honoured to be a part of this historic event."

Sappers' monthly meeting

THE next monthly meeting of the Royal Engineers Association will take place Tuesday, November 4, from 8pm at the Drill Hall, Walsall Road, Bridgton. All Sappers past and present are welcome to attend. Call the branch secretary on 01543 423319 for more details.

Extra date is added to concerts on the Chase

AN extra outdoor concert will be performed on Cannock Chase next year as part of the annual Forest Live gigs.

A Sunday night performance has been added to the bill in 2015, alongside the usual Friday and Saturday gigs. The last time three concerts were held at the beauty spot was in 2008.

The move has been hailed as a boost to the district's economy. Forestry Commission spokesman James Delaney said: "The Forestry Commission will be looking at three nights next year at Cannock Chase Forest subject to suitable artists being available."

By Laura Blyth

"This is similar to 2008 when The Zutons, Status Quo and The Charlatans all performed across the concert weekend."

Popular

The outdoor concerts will run at the Birches Valley site from July 10 to 12.

Cannock Chase Council leader George Adamson said the extra date proved how popular the Forest Live gigs were in the area.

He said: "These gigs are great for the area and bring thousands of people into Cannock Chase."

"This is excellent news."

The events have always been a success and this shows they are getting even more popular."

This year, Jessie J and Paul Weller were the star turns.

Forest Live is organised by the Forestry Commission. It sees big names play in beauty spots around the UK, with revenue from ticket sales ploughed into improving the woodland.

Previous big name performers on the Chase include Blondie, Paloma Faith, Erasure and Sugababes.

Just over 5,000 tickets are made available for each concert, meaning more than 15,000 music lovers will be able to enjoy the concerts next year.

Knitted poppies mean a little more for charity

By Marion Brennan

WHEN Jackie Littlemore agreed to make a poppy corsege for a friend just like one the Queen Mother had worn, she had no idea it would turn out to be the start of something big.

"People kept stopping her in the street and asking her where she got it from," said Jackie.

"I was getting lots of requests for more - it just took off," the retired welfare officer added.

Jackie, from Rugeley crocheted the design and began selling them at market stalls in aid of the Royal British Legion.

Six years on, she has made thousands of woollen poppies and is now celebrating having reached the £6,000 fundraising milestone.

Rhythm

The great-grandmother picks up her crochet needle and wool every single day - even recently taking it on holiday to Scotland with her.

She said: "I enjoy it. You get into a rhythm and you can chat or watch TV or listen to a play at the same time."

"It's a gentle pastime, I find it relaxing. I certainly didn't know it would lead to all this."

Jackie of Kinglsey Wood Road, creates a different design each year, with this year's being the most elaborate so far.

In honour of the centenary of the outbreak of the conflict, she has incorporated medal ribbon into the design and included the commemorative dates 1914 - 2014.

She gets requests to post her poppies out to customers in Australia, New Zealand and Canada as well as all over the UK, taking only what it costs her in materials before handing over her profits.

She said that some people buy a poppy from her every year and one woman even wears them all at the same time.

Now 76, Jackie reveals she did not take up crocheting until she was 60 after being taught by a colleague at Armitage Shanks in Rugeley where she worked.

"I've certainly made up for lost time," she said.

To order a poppy, contact Jackie on 01889 585813.

Playing a blinder with voiceover role

Ethan Carless, from Cannock, centre, flanked by fellow students Harry Kinman and Joey Dunnion

A STUDENT from Cannock has played a blinder – by providing his voice for a hit television show.

Ethan Carless was one of three Birmingham Ormiston Academy students selected to provide authentic Brummie voiceovers for the cast of Peaky Blinders.

The historical drama, set in Birmingham just after the First World War, follows a criminal gang and their boss Tommy Shelby. It stars Cillian Murphy and Tom Hardy.

Ethan, a current Year 13 acting pathway student, was chosen alongside two of his classmates, Joey Dunnion and Harry Kinman, to attend the voicing session. They spent a Nuisance messages on rise

THE number of harassing messages sent online or via text across Staffordshire has risen by 25 per cent in the past year.

Cannock recorded the highest number of offences in the county.

A total of 1,527 harassment offences were reported to Staffordshire Police between May 2013 and May 2014, compared to 1212 the previous year. In Cannock, 158 incidents were logged.

A total of 302 of the harassment offences recorded were linked to social media compared to 117 in the previous 12-month period. The majority of the offences that were linked to social media involved Facebook and Twitter and the figures also revealed that 854, some 56 per cent, of all reported offences took place within relationships.

Staffordshire Police has since launched a campaign to tackle the rise in cyber bullying.

Growing

Called #urNOTinvisible, the campaign is being supported by a growing group of specialist organisations including Chase Against Crimes of Hate, Pathway and The Salvation Army.

Inspector Paul Cooke, head of local policing across southern Staffordshire, said: "Unfortunately, we are seeing more and more people suffering as a result of this type of harassment.

"We are encouraging those affected to save and not delete messages as evidence needed to make further investigation into these horrible offences."

Anna McLauchlan, Co-ordinator from Chase Against Crimes of Hate, added: "We are glad to be part of this campaign; cyberbullying is an issue that needs to be tackled by law enforcement as well as organisations like ours."

Family taking shot at business venture

Charlotte and Matthew White and their father Tony at the family business at Wolseley Bridge, near Rugeley

SHOTGUNS and specialist clothing are being sold at a new business launched by a family near Rugeley.

Father-of-two Tony White has gone into business with his son Matthew, aged 25, and daughter Charlotte, 29, to open Whites Sporting and Clothing at Oakedge Park, Wolseley Bridge.

It sells country and sporting clothing for men and women, alongside shotguns and accessories.

The 56-year-old set up his own gun-making company, TR White & Co, in 1989, and the new business is situated opposite its base at Oakedge Shooting Ground. Matthew, who lives with him on the Shugborough estate, also started learning the gun-making trade when he was 19.

The family have spent around £7,000 refurbishing the shop over the last three months and have built a gun cabinet which can hold 40 shotguns.

Miss White, of Eaton Drive, Rugeley, said: "We've had interest in the guns and customers have been commenting that the clothing is lovely. There's nothing else like this for miles around. But it is going really well."

Club takes lead in bid to sponsor guide dog

MEMBERS of a Heath Hayes club will come face-to-face with a guide dog puppy they have sponsored.

Six-week-old Hayes was named by regulars at Heath Hayes Constitutional Club, in Hednesford Road, who raised £5,000 for the privilege.

Over the next 12 months, staff will hear what Hayes has been up to as they receive a puppy birth certificate, personalised updates on its training and a final photo as it leaves its puppy walker to go to Guide Dog Training School.

They will also meet Hayes in person so they can see first hand how well he is doing and ask questions about his progress.

Jane Jennings, of the club, said: "Last year the club was 100 years old so we decided we needed to do something special to celebrate."

"I have known a local guide dog owner for many years so we decided to name a puppy. We managed to raise the £5,000 quite easily in 12 months. We had something going on all the time from dances to race nights."

Sarah Knox, from Guide

Guide dog puppy Hayes

Dogs, said: "I hope the staff at the Constitutional Club know just how much they have done to bring independence to a blind or partially sighted person."

"A guide dog brings confidence, mobility and companionship. Hayes will truly change a life."

MP among guests in business boss tribute

AN MP joined business leaders for a charity night honouring the life of a garden centre boss who died of cancer.

Gavin Williamson, Conservative MP for South Staffordshire, was among the guests, along with his wife Joanne, at the Premier Suite in Bar Sport, Cannock. The night was held in memory of Tim Porter, managing director of the Hollybush Garden Centre in Shareshill, who lost his battle last year.

More than 230 people attended in all, including employees from Jack Moody LCE Limited, the Hollybush Garden Centre and A&D Aquatics.

They enjoyed Las Vegas-style entertainment in the form of roulette, showgirls and dinner and music from soul and funk band The Marks Brothers.

More than £12,000 was raised from the evening, which will be split between Cancer Research and the Midlands Air Ambulance, for whom Mr Porter raised many hundreds of pounds.

Champagne

An auction on the evening included London theatre tickets, football memorabilia, a House of Commons bottle of Champagne, personally signed by David Cameron and donated by Mr Williamson. There was also a host of prizes donated by local businesses.

Third high-speed line planned

A THIRD high-speed rail line - dubbed HS3 - has been announced by the Government to slash journey times across the country.

The line will connect Manchester and Leeds, with times set to be cut in half. It would follow the completion of the HS2 project linking London with Birmingham.

Prime Minister David Cameron and Chancellor George Osborne gave their backing to HS3 and said it would boost the economy for decades to come.

They say HS3 is the next piece of the jigsaw to improve transport links even further.

HS2 leader Sir David Higgins says improving connections across the north is 'vital' and considers the central role a high-speed rail link could play.

The Government is also launching a review into the costs and time it takes to build high-speed rail, to find ways to bring down the costs of the northern phase of HS2 and future high-speed rail projects.

HS2 link branded 'waste of money' by campaigners

CAMPAIGNERS have branded a link between Stafford and the HS2 line a 'waste of time and money'. But it received a cautious welcome from council chiefs.

Trains on the route between London and the north of England would come off the £50bn high speed line at Lichfield and join up with the West Coast Mainline before going through Stafford and Stoke. It had been expected that the nine-mile stretch would be scrapped to save construction time.

But now HS2 chairman Sir David Higgins has confirmed that the Handsacre link remains a major part of the project.

Protesters say the link will not be used enough for it to have any economic benefit - and they argue the HS2 line as a whole should be axed.

Once the second phase of HS2, linking Birmingham to the north, is finished, there will be an hourly service between Stafford and London joining up with the HS2 line at Lichfield.

But Bob Gasch, from the Marston Against HS2 group, said: "It seems a lot of money and effort for something that will not be used enough."

"They claim this will help the economy but surely they need to be spending money on towns and cities to create jobs now instead of looking 15 or 20 years into the future."

Prominence

Stafford Borough Council leader Mike Heenan said he was still opposed to HS2, but did not want Stafford to miss out.

He said the town would be 'cut off' from HS2 if the link was scrapped.

He added: "Although we are not convinced there is a case for HS2 as a whole, we want the Handsacre link because it gives some prominence to Stafford. Otherwise the town would have been bypassed by the whole system."

"This will make Stafford the next stop linking to HS2 and would be a boost if the whole project is going to go ahead."

"Though we are still committed to fighting for compensation for residents and reducing the impact on them."

HS2 chairman Sir David Higgins

Campaigners have also claimed the Handsacre link is not needed as HS2 would already join up with the West Coast Mainline in Crewe.

Lichfield MP Michael Fabricant had called for the link to be removed from plans amid fears it would ruin countryside and see house prices plummet.

It has already emerged that the line will no longer pass through a viaduct in Lichfield, but will instead go under the A38 and West Coast Mainline.

The height of the line around the A38 will also be reduced.

A CONCERT that will pay tribute to Stephen Sutton will feature ex-Pussycat Dolls singer Nicole Scherzinger as one of the acts.

The former X Factor judge will be appearing at Free Radio Live at the LG Arena, Birmingham, on Saturday, November 29.

During the concert, a tribute will be paid to the inspirational Burntwood teenager, who died from bowel cancer in May at the age of 19. A substantial donation from ticket sales will be made to the Teenage Cancer Trust.

Three found guilty of drug supply conspiracy

TWO men and a woman have been found guilty of conspiracy to supply Class A drugs after more than £1million worth of ecstasy was discovered by police near Cannock.

Some of the 34kg haul of ecstasy was recovered in the boot of a car pulled over by police on the M6 services near junction 11.

More was found in a hotel room in Stafford.

Charles Hendrie and his girlfriend Leah Parkes, who were arrested at Hilton Park, were both found guilty at Stafford Crown Court.

A seven-woman, five-man jury also found Adib Asfour guilty of conspiracy to supply class A drugs.

A unanimous decision was made on Hendrie, but both Parkes and Asfour were convicted by a majority of 10-2 after deliberating for eight hours and 21 minutes.

Hired

They were remanded in custody to be sentenced at a later date. Mark Harrington and Chloe Arrowsmith were both found not guilty.

The trial heard how Hendrie and Parkes had travelled from Manchester to Stafford in a hired van on November 6 last year.

The couple stopped at the Holiday Inn in Acton Gate where they were joined by Mr Harrington, who had travelled in a separate car.

Mr Matthew Brook, prosecuting, said Hendrie and Mr Harrington set off separately towards Brownhills, while Parkes booked into a room at the hotel.

The court heard Mr Harrington had stopped in the High Street while Hendrie continued to a warehouse in Maybrook Road to collect the MDMA, most commonly known as ecstasy. Hendrie, aged 30, then went back towards Mr Harrington and they returned to the hotel and swapped vehicles.

During the trial, Mr Harrington, 28, of Wensley Road, Salford, said Hendrie had asked him for a favour after realising he needed to hire a van and he had followed Hendrie and Parkes in a car, intending to drive the van back to Manchester.

He said after Hendrie picked up the package the pair had opened it in the back of the van. Mr Harrington said he thought it was 'weed' but he knew nothing about the drugs. Asfour, 26, of Kinlet Close, Wolverhampton, arrived at Acton Gate and went to the room with another unidentified man but left 10 minutes later.

Hendrie and Parkes, 28, both of Prospect Place, Bury, later left with a suitcase. The second was found at the hotel.

The following day, it was said an email was sent to the Holiday Inn claiming to be Parkes saying a bag had been left behind and would be collected by Ms Arrowsmith. When she did turn up she was arrested.

Ms Arrowsmith, 25, of Manor Royal Drive, London, maintained her innocence throughout.

Gritting teams prepared for winter ahead

MORE than 28,000 tons of salt has been stockpiled to treat Staffordshire's roads. Teams are on standby for when the temperatures plummet.

A 40-plus gritting fleet is ready to salt more than 40 per cent of highways around the county as part of Operation Snowflake.

Mark Deaville, cabinet support member for highways and transport, said: "Operation Snowflake marks the start of winter for the county council and our highways teams will be out doing everything they can to keep the county moving."

The salt has been stockpiled and weather and road conditions are monitored around the clock to allow the crews to strike as early as possible when the icy conditions hit.

Councillor Deaville added: "It is essential we are prepared for whatever winter has in store for us."

"We have been training crews, making sure our fleet is in tip-top condition and stocking up on salt so we can be ready to minimise the impact of ice, snow and flooding on our roads."

"While it is still quite mild, the teams will be continuing with daily highway operations, but it is great to know they are good to go when needed."

Schoolboys have a ball at Banks's clash

Mackenzie John, Rhys Williams, Harvey Tuzzio and Blake Ainger with the captains, officials and mascots

RUGELEY pupils were on the ball at Walsall's Banks's Stadium last weekend.

Four Chase View Primary School youngsters, namely Mackenzie John, Rhys Williams, Harvey Tuzzio and Blake Ainger, acted as ballboys for the Saddlers League One clash against Chesterfield.

Their experience began with a two-hour training session and match on the astroturf pitch run by the coaches from Walsall's Community team. The children met all the players for a game taking place on 'Kick It Out' day and then, led out by Year 5 pupil Rhys, helped the game run smoothly.

The children were congratulated by Walsall Community staff for their enthusiasm and behaviour. A signed Walsall ball was awarded to Mackenzie for showing the best attitude.

Name change at Ramada

THE landmark Ramada Hotel in Cannock is to become a Holiday Inn in January.

The site will undergo a £250,000 renovation but will not close during the brand change. Work has already begun to renovate the 95 bedrooms.

Towering over the skyline of the town, the Ramada Birmingham North site was built by local developer Fred Pritchard in 2006 but the landmark building and units within the plaza were bought by investment firm Nine Hospitality last year, after former owners Pritchard Group went into administration in 2012.

Victoria Neuchterlein, the hotel's sales and marketing manager, said: "It is a big renovation as we have only been open eight years."

Bedding

"All the rooms are currently being renovated to Holiday Inn standard and the bathroom flooring, headboards, carpet, curtains and bedding will all change. We are renovating around bookings."

The change of branding on the building's exterior is expected to only take one day.

Miss Neuchterlein said: "The official exterior rebranding will happen on the same day that we open as a Holiday Inn. The facilities we offer will stay the same, including our wedding packages, function and conference rooms and our sky bar."

Dance duo Keay to teaching steps

COMMERCIAL FEATURE

DANCING has increased in popularity recently due to the success of BBC's Strictly Come Dancing. And what better place to learn than at Stardust Dance Academy?

This friendly dance school promotes an excellent standard of teaching by fully qualified teachers Clive and Samantha Keay who have more than 20 years of teaching experience.

Clive and Samantha have been dancing together professionally for many years. They were successful competitors in ballroom and Latin American and appeared twice of the original series of Come Dancing.

Thriving

They also taught and performed on cruise ships all over the world for 10 years. Now, 10 years on, they run a thriving dance school at eight different venues across the West Midlands and Staffordshire, including at Cannock's Avon Business & Leisure Centre, Avon Road, from 6.30 to 7.15pm and at Baswich Community Hall, Stafford, from 7.30 to 8.15pm on Wednesdays.

New classes are starting and you will be surprised at how easy it can be.

Maybe there's a social occasion, cruise or that all important first dance at your wedding coming up, these classes can get you started. Classes are relaxed and friendly, and there are always helpers around who try to make learning as fun as possible and hope that people enjoy dancing as much as they do.

Clive and Samantha Keay who run the dance academy

Clive and Samantha also host regular social dances where pupils have the opportunity to practise what they have learned, meet new friends and have a great fun night out. A few times a year themed Ball evenings are held where everyone gets the chance to dress up, watch fabulous dance displays and occasionally dance to the sounds of a big band. They also run weekend dancing holidays across the UK.

Improver, Intermediate and Advanced classes are available, so there is something to suit everyone. Call 01902 306909, 07985 087013, 07757 691495 or visit www.stardustdanceacademy.co.uk

Visit Norton Canes

Norton Canes is a village and civil parish on the southern edge of Cannock Chase District. It is situated three miles out of the centre of Cannock. At the 2001 census it had a population of 6,394 and an area of 3,746 acres of which 86 per cent is green open space.

The Cannock Chase Coalfield once had 45 collieries within two miles of Norton Canes, employing more than 5,800 men, as well as two large surface mines. The last pit in the area closed in 1993. Grove Pit was one of these pits, and on October 1, 1930 was the scene of a major tragedy when 14 miners were killed in an explosion.

Another local colliery was owned by the Jerome family, hence Jerome Road now stands on the site of the pit. This was the family of the author Jerome K. Jerome. Norton Canes borders Chasewater - a collection of man-made lakes formed through old mining pits and a reservoir that feeds the canal system of West Midlands. Chasewater is a popular leisure destination offering facilities for water-skiing and yachting, mountain biking, jogging, walking and bird watching.

Norton Canes straddles the UK's first and only Toll Motorway, the M6 Toll which has its northern Toll Plaza and Norton Canes Services is the only services for that motorway.

Last year saw the launch of the new revamped skatepark in the village. The project was led by the parish council and funded by a grant from Veolia Environmental Trust and supported by Cannock Chase District Council.

Norton Canes is also home to numerous business parks, which brings a large variety of businesses from industrial to commercial to the area.

Apprentice bricklayer wins award

AN apprentice bricklayer has been named as the West Midlands's top Young Achiever in a national house builder's award scheme. Callum Whitehouse, from Norton Canes, was recognised for his hard work and dedication by Persimmon Homes West Midlands.

Based on-site at The Pippins in Rugeley, 17-year-old Callum was selected as the company's Trade Apprentice of the Year.

Christmas tree in town will honour Stephen's memory

A CHRISTMAS tree will be erected in memory of Stephen Sutton in Burntwood this year. The tree will be decorated with yellow bows.

The annual tree on Sankeys corner will raise money for Stephen's the Teenage Cancer Trust.

Fundraiser Joanne Jarvis, 41, came up with the idea after a number of people said they were saddened that the yellow bows tied around the town were becoming weathered and being removed.

The yellow ribbons were tied to railings earlier this year during Stephen's battle with cancer. He died in May, aged 19, after helping to raise nearly £5m for the Teenage Cancer Trust.

Joanne, a mother-of-three from St Matthews estate, has been involved with a number of fundraising events.

She said: "People were upset that the bows were being removed but they were becoming ruined. With the Christmas tree, we can decorate it with yellow ribbons and it will be a lovely way to remember him."

"I met Stephen on a few occasions through various charity events and he was such an inspiration, we decided then to do as much as we could to help raise money for the Teenage Cancer Trust."

Mrs Jarvis contacted Burntwood Town Council which agreed to the use of the tree and now she is busy organising collection points for the ribbons.

Collection

She said: "I think Sankeys Corner is a great focal point. Now we have the tree confirmed I am hoping a local company will be able to donate or help sponsor the yellow lights that will be used to decorate the tree."

Wild Orchid florists in Burntwood has donated yellow ribbon and has offered to make the larger bows.

Mrs Jarvis said: "I am looking at selling the bows in three different sizes."

"They will be £1 for small, £3 for medium and £5 for a large bow. I am organising a variety of collection and drop-off points."

Members of the public can buy a bow and write a personal message on it, before the tree is decorated ahead of the light switch-on. Mrs Jarvis said: "I am just waiting on a date for when the tree will arrive and we can confirm a date for the switch-on."

Joanne, who also helped organise the Thumbs Up For Stephen festival in June, hopes the tree will raise at least £1,000.

Stephen's friend Lee Woodward said: "The yellow ribbons show how proud we are as a community of Stephen."

Burntwood Town Council leader Councillor Diane Evans said: "We are happy to help keep Stephen's memory alive."

"He did so much for Burntwood, he was inspirational."

Cannock is the most populous of three towns in the district of Cannock Chase in the central southern part of the county of Staffordshire in the West Midlands region of England.

Cannock lies to the north of the West Midlands conurbation on the M6, A34 and A5 roads, and to the south of Cannock Chase, an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB). Cannock is served by a railway station on the Chase Line. The town comprises four district council electoral wards whose populations in the 2011 census totalled 29,018.

The Cannock South ward includes the civil parish of Bridgtown, but the rest of Cannock is unparished. The Cannock urban subdivision is a built-up area north of the M6 Toll defined by the Office for National Statistics. Most of it is in Cannock Chase District and covers most of Cannock, Hednesford town, Heath Hayes and Wimblebury. The rest is in South Staffordshire District and covers most of Huntington and Wedges Mills.

Cannock has a reasonably sized town centre which includes some well known high street names. It also has outdoor and indoor markets and a shopping centre, however some of Cannock's other shopping facilities are to be found in out of town locations such as Longford Island Retail Estate and the Orbital Retail Park.

Cannock has a choice of nightclubs and bars, including Missoula (Used to be called Stones), Silks, Bank Bar & Lounge, Piques, Courtyard (used to be called Academy), Bar 77, Club Lounge, and Bar Sport, as well as several traditional pubs dotted around the town centre including the White Hart, The Royal Oak and Wetherspoons. There are also many restaurants, gastro pubs, and fast food establishments offering a wide choice of food.

Cannock has a leisure centre which contains a swimming pool and other sporting facilities. It also has an ice rink, Silverblades, although this is a small rink compared to other larger rinks to be found at Telford and Solihull. It also has a two-screen cinema which was recently renovated as part of an on-going attempt at redeveloping this part of the town centre.

Dorman's apprentice, Lt B. Carleton-Smith, aged 19

Philip Jones, of the Dorman Association for former employees, with the painting at the Shire Hall Gallery

Factory Roll of Honour recalls fallen colleagues

AN elaborate oil painting commissioned by a patriotic factory boss is going on display in Stafford.

The artwork was commissioned by Walter Haddon, chairman of W.H. Dorman & Co Ltd in Stafford, to highlight the sacrifices faced by 300 of his workers during the Great War.

It features the name of every man who fought picked out in gold lettering against a background of heavenly gates, cherubs and the figure of Christ.

The unusual 6ft high tribute once adorned the walls of the company's Foregate Street site, but has been in storage for decades.

It has been cleaned up and renovated for the centenary of the 1914-18 conflict and will be on display at the Shire Hall Gallery until November 2.

Philip Jones, of Pennfields, Wolverhampton, is a member of the Dorman Association for former employees. He first came across the painting covered in dust stacked against a wall in a storeroom many years ago when he worked as a wages clerk at the firm's Tixall Road site. He was impressed by grandeur of the artwork but mainly the sheer number of names listed.

Of those 300 employees who went off to war, 24 never returned and are given a special listing on the painting.

MEMORY LANE

By Marion Brennan

Dorman's also brought out a memorial booklet containing the photographs and a brief biography of those that died or were reported missing. This was given to their next of kin and a copy can be seen at The William Salt Library in Stafford.

Among those featured was chief wages clerk Harry Cull, of Victoria Terrace, Stafford, aged 23, who had played football for Aston Villa and Cannock FC and was the first secretary of Dorman's own football club before volunteering to serve with the Coldstream Guards.

He was wounded at the Battle of Loos and died nine months later in hospital in June 1916. Signaller Harry Millward, of Brook Street, Stafford, worked in the fitting department and was aged 21 when killed at Ypres in 1916 serving with the 6th Staffordshires Battery of the Royal Field Artillery. His fellow shopmate at Dorman's, Bombardier A. Hawkins, carried him three miles to safety only to find he had died on the way. He was awarded the Distinguished Conduct Medal.

Private A.J. Haywood, aged 26, of Jessamine Cottage, Huntington, was employed as a capstan hand at Dorman's. He was killed at Passchendaele on November 10, the day before the Armistice was signed.

Thirteen Dorman's employees were decorated, awarded either the Military Medal or Distinguished Conduct Medal. One - Herbert John Mountford, of Brocton - received the French military decoration, the Croix de Guerre.

Among the names of the survivors are the chairman's nephews, Norman Haddon and his cousin William Haddon, who were apprentices at the firm.

Certificate

Dorman's made its own huge contribution to the war effort, making the engines for the trench railways that took food and weapons to the front and which carried back injured soldiers to field hospitals. The company won the certificate to make prototypes in 1913 from the War Office.

The Foregate Street site was wound down in the 1930s but the facade is still there, today housing a number of small businesses as part of the Paul Reynolds Centre.

The Tixall Road factory was bought by Perkins, the biggest diesel engine manufacturers in the country, and is now owned by Caterpillar, although it retains the Perkins name.

Royal seal for tribute to women's war efforts

THE work of the Women's Land Army and Women's Timber Corps has received a royal seal of approval.

The women were called up to help produce food and fell trees in wartime Britain.

Now a memorial has been dedicated in their honour at the National Memorial Arboretum at Alrewas.

The bronze sculpture in recognition of their efforts was unveiled by HRH The Countess of Wessex. Around 2,000 people gathered for the unveilings.

The sculpture depicts a Lumber Jill, the name given to those who worked in the Timber Corps, linking arms with the Land Girl, the members of the Land Army, who is holding a pitchfork.

As part of the unveiling a service of dedication was led by the Rev Canon Roger Hall and included prayers, hymns and the Last Post.

The Countess of Wessex led the proceedings and then spent time talking with some of the Land Girls and Lumber Jills during a reception afterwards.

Proud

Great grandmother June Rose Williams, aged 85, from Wednesfield, who was a land girl in Herefordshire, said: "It is nice to be remembered at last. I am proud to be part of the occasion."

Mandy Malpass, an 86-year-old Cannock grandmother, was based at a hostel in Lea Hall in Eccleshall and spent two-and-a-half years helping the war effort.

She helped with the fundraising appeal for the memorial and said: "We have got to be remembered the same as all the soldiers. We did our bit for the war."

The Stafford Grammar School band performed songs from the era with around 20 youngsters aged from 14 to 18 taking part.

Two women from Stafford were used as models for the memorial. Izzy

Wright, 23, of Tixall Farm, the granddaughter of Land Girl Mary Wright, said: "It was a big honour. This is a wonderful occasion."

Her fellow model university student Sarah Martin, aged 19 from Wellyards Close, Weston, added: "It is really great to get royalty here. It amazing what they did, they really deserve some recognition."

Women's Land Army tribute project co-ordinator Julie Scott said they were honoured to welcome The Countess of Wessex. The memorial was created by sculptress Denise Dutton from Stoke-on-Trent.

Tributes paid as brave Margot loses her battle

SHE touched the lives of millions as she fought the odds against leukaemia.

But Margot Martini's rollercoaster battle with the disease has now sadly come to an end.

On the Team Margot website, her parents broke the heartbreaking news that became ever more real following her relapse in June.

More than a thousand people took to the Facebook page to pay tribute to the flame-haired tot and express their sadness and support to her family.

'Inspiring', 'little angel' and 'brave' were among the words used to describe Margot.

On Twitter, where the @Swab4Margot campaign had been vocal, hundreds of supporters tweeted #RIPMargot as it emerged the courageous youngster had lost her battle.

In an effort to continue the campaign they posted links to www.deletebloodcancer.org.uk

The family had posted on Sunday that they were taking things 'hour by hour' revealing the two-year-old's condition had 'deteriorated significantly'

Margot was diagnosed with both acute lymphoblastic leukaemia and acute myeloid leukaemia when she was just 14 months old.

Parents Yaser and Vicki, who is originally from Essington and went to school in Cheslyn Hay, appealed for help and for donors in an ambitious hunt to find a perfect stem cell match.

An online appeal was started to raise awareness of Margot's plight and a video was seen by more than 60,000 people. Facebook group Team Margot attracted more than 17,000 followers. It initially led to more than 50,000 people coming forward to be tested under the Swab4Margot campaign.

Margot and her brothers with their parents Vicky and Yaser

Celebrities backed the campaign and a mass swabbing event took place in Wolverhampton. In February this year there was a major breakthrough when a donor was found.

Transplant

Margot underwent a bone marrow transplant and her parents faced an eight-week wait. In March, blood tests showed she had 100 per cent donor cells with medics saying they were 99 per cent certain she was 'disease free'.

Tests also showed her blood numbers had stopped falling and started to climb unassisted, meaning her immune system was showing signs of improving. Margot seemed to be on the road to recovery when in June tests showed the presence of a low amount of Acute Lymphoblastic Leukaemia.

Yaser said she was in the early stages of relapse but the family were doing all they could to stay positive.

Experimental treatment at Sheffield Children's Hospital followed and the family considered other therapy options with specialists in America.

They decided against it after being told by medical experts that the chances of Margot being able to lead a normal life after subsequent treatment was slim. They decided she would live out the rest of her life at home.

There were further visits to hospitals in London aimed at reducing Margot's suffering. But the courageous child passed away on Monday.

Hats off to this top rate musical

HATS off to a top rate performance on the opening night of this delightful musical.
Wolverhampton's Grand Theatre was packed to watch the classic Top Hat and they were in for a treat. And apart from a short technical hitch the cast was certainly Putting on the Ritz, bringing the glamour of Hollywood's golden age to the stage.
Yes the storyline may be a bit corny, and everyone who has seen the film, and even those who haven't, can guess at the happy ending. But that did not matter a jot as the music – a great job by the orchestra – and the dancing were superb.

Any fans following the current TV series of Strictly Come Dancing would have looked on in amazement as the dancers glided across the stage in stunning costumes – far more elegant than sequinned SCD lot.

All the cast gave 100 per cent with a superb performance by leads Jerry Travers, played by Alan Burkitt and Dale Tremont (Charlotte Gooch) but I must confess my favourite was the rather hard-done to Horace Hardwick (Clive Hayward) who always got things wrong but somehow got things right in the end.
The show runs until Saturday so go face the music and enjoy!

Leo makes it up when list is lost

Leo & Anto
Slade Rooms, Wolves
“We will just have to make it up as we go along,” announced Anthony Thistlethwaite after a colourful exclamation from Galway man Leo Moran that the set list was missing.
That set the tone for a very relaxed affair which bordered on the haphazard. After the opener of Same Oul Town the discovery led to a lot of whispering between the duo, as they discussed what to play, and loud prompting from the packed crowd.
The stripped down versions of the Saw Doctors songs saw Leo providing the majority of the lyrics and Anto showing his versatility on an impressive range of instruments.
In between tracks such as Tell Me Who the Villains Are and Friday Town there was a lot of banter including the dullest story of meeting Bob Dylan from Anto.
They gave the crowd what they wanted with songs such as First Love, Galway & Mayo and Clare Island.
Danny Farragher

REVIEWS

Colourful cast with all the Disney favourites

Sparkling Disney show is just magic

Disney On Ice, 100 Years of Magic, Birmingham NIA
THEY sparkled, danced and sang – and that was just the audience at the Disney On Ice 100 Years of Magic show. The opening night at Birmingham's NIA was packed, not bad for a 'school night'. And the youngsters, many dressed in Disney costumes, lapped it up.
All the favourites were there and launching proceedings was the loveable Goofy. He talked us through a fun-packed programme of Disney characters and their routines although the current Frozen unfortunately was not featured – maybe next year. From the delights of Aladdin, Nemo, Beauty and the Beast and an array of princesses the show was fun packed. There were touching scenes with Minnie and Mickey and a power show by the flexible Incredibles.
The effects were, needless to say, stunning and the audience were happy to sing along to all the songs, children and adults alike. A very enjoyable night and the little ones left tired but very happy. It runs until Sunday so try to catch it.

Blues-soul veterans rock Robin

Steve Cropper and The Animals, Robin 2, Bilston
THIS union of 1960s British blues veterans and US soul guitar icon, on a return to the Black Country venue, was a special night for music fans with long memories.
Original drummer with the Geordie bluesbusters John Steel assembled a first rate band, including keys man Mickey Gallagher, stalwart of both The Animals and The Blockheads, plus superlative singer/guitarist Danny Handley and rock solid bassist Scott Whitley.
They did justice to such classics as We Gotta Get Out Of This Place, Bring It On Home To Me, Don't Let Me Be Misunderstood and House Of The Rising Sun.
Then the Stax Records guitar great and last of Booker T's MGs joined them to play licks from songs he co-wrote with Wilson Pickett, Otis Redding and Eddie Floyd. Portly, avuncular 'Colonel' Cropper regaled us with anecdotes and was enjoying himself as much as the fans. It ended with Soul Man and Boom Boom.

Are you up to date with Right to Buy?

COMMERCIAL FEATURE

COUNCIL and housing association tenants. Are you up to date with Right to Buy?

Right to Buy is the scheme that helps eligible council and housing association tenants buy their home by offering a discount on the purchase price.

Since 2012 the discounts available have increased and the rates have recently risen again.

The new top cash discounts are £77,000 in England, and £102,700 if you live in London. Each year the discount will increase at the rate of inflation.

In addition, eligible tenants can now get up to 70 per cent off the cost of their house – the same maximum percentage discount as for flats.

Since the scheme was refreshed in April 2012 more than 22,500 people in England have become homeowners through the Right to Buy scheme. Could this be the right time for you – or somebody you know – to join them?

Home ownership is not the right choice for everyone and potential owners need to be sure they can afford it. However home ownership brings many benefits - a sense of pride, freedom to make changes and an investment for the future.

Eligible

All additional purchases through the Right to Buy scheme go straight into building new affordable housing for hardworking people locally.

Who qualifies for the Right to Buy? Tenants are likely to be eligible to buy their current home if they can answer 'yes' to the following questions:

- Are you currently a council tenant, or were you living in your home when the council transferred it to another landlord (housing association)?
- Have you been a council or housing association tenant for 5 years or more?

- Can you confirm that you do not live in sheltered housing or other housing designed for elderly or disabled people?

In addition, tenants need to be free from legal problems with debt or outstanding possession orders, and their home isn't due to be demolished.

If you don't qualify at the moment, keep an eye on news about Right to Buy as the Government is hoping to make further changes to eligibility in 2015.

What to do next: To find out more about buying your home and whether you are eligible for a discount through Right to Buy, visit www.communities.gov.uk/therighttobuy.

There is an easy-to-use calculator to help you work out if you can afford to buy and lots of practical tips about the buying process.

If you decide to go ahead you will need to fill in the application form and take the process forward with your landlord.

Support from start to finish: The Government's new Right to Buy Agent service offers free and impartial advice on Right to Buy.

If you decide that home ownership is the right choice for you, the advisers at the service will help you through the process from applying to completing. They can provide information on finding a mortgage, appointing a solicitor and arranging a survey.

If you are midway through buying and have a problem, get in touch with the Agent service and they can advise you.

The advisers are available from Monday to Friday, 8am until 6pm, on 0300 123 0913.

For more information, visit the website at www.communities.gov.uk/therighttobuy or telephone 0300 123 0913.

Flavia, London

With Right to Buy, you could now get a bigger discount towards buying the home you live in.

Have you been a council tenant for at least 5 years? If so, you could be eligible for a discount of up to £77,000, or £102,700 if you live in London. So is now the right time to think about buying your home?

To find out more about Right to Buy and whether you're eligible for a large discount, visit:

Noel is so surreal and Miranda Sings

STAND up and be counted among the comedy fans. Noel Fielding from The Mighty Boosh and Never Mind The Buzzcocks goes on surreal flights of fancy at Wolverhampton Civic Hall tonight (Thursday), while over at Birmingham's New Alexandra Theatre Geordie comedian Ross Noble performs his Tangentman show tomorrow and Saturday. Al Murray brings his Pub Landlord for another round in One Man One Gun at the New Alexandra on Sunday. YouTube sensation Miranda Sings (aka Colleen Ballinger, who will be her own support act) is at the Wulfrun Hall on Wednesday, the same night Hebburn creator Jason Cook is at the Slade Rooms.

Supergroup bring Gravitas to venue

SUPERGROUP Asia have returned with a new album, Gravitas. Legendary rock drummer Carl Palmer, singer-bassist John Wetton and keyboardist Geoff Downes will be joined by Bromsgrove-born guitarist Sam Coulson at the Wulfrun Hall on Saturday. That's the same night that Black Country band Mothers Worry have their reunion at Bilston's Robin 2 and Counting Crows play Birmingham 02 Academy with Bombay Bicycle Club collaborator Lucy Rose. Also, X Factor star and former Brum music student Rhydian sings at Birmingham Town Hall. Paolo Nutini is at the LG Arena on Wednesday.

Fans can rely on Paloma

PALOMA Faith brings her glamorous take on R&B to the West Midlands next month and has already planned a return in spring. The Hackney songstress got 2014 off to a flying start with third album A Perfect Contradiction and her Pharrell Williams' produced hit Can't Rely On You. She had a star turn at the Proms, appeared at summer festivals and featured in the BBC's star-studded God Only Knows song and video. Paloma has repackaged her album as The Outsiders Edition with extra tracks including new single Ready For The Good Life, plus a recording of her concert at the Royal Albert Hall. The Only Love Can Hurt Like This singer has sold out Symphony Hall, Birmingham, on November 11 and plays Wolverhampton Civic Hall on November 22. She's back to play the NIA (Barclaycard Arena, as it will be then) on March 19.

A CHANCE remark at a dinner party exposes a conspiracy in JB Priestley's play Dangerous Corner, staged at Birmingham Rep from Monday to Saturday.

Directed by Michael Attenborough, this new production will feature Michael Praed, who is still fondly remembered as TV's Robin of Sherwood, and Colin Buchanan, who was DI Pascoe in TV series Dalziel and Pascoe.

From the writer of the classic An Inspector Calls, Dangerous Corner is a mystery that sees dinner guests take a fresh look at the events surrounding a recent death. The strong ensemble cast also includes Kim Thomson, who was Faye Lamb in Emmerdale, Downton Abbey footman Matt Milne, Lauren Drummond from Waterloo Road and Finty Williams, the Gosford Park actress and daughter of Dame Judi Dench.

The war poets of the First World War are portrayed on stage in Regeneration at Wolverhampton Grand Theatre from Tuesday to Saturday. Olivier Award winning playwright Nicholas Wright has adapted Pat Barker's Booker nominated novel for the stage, a war story in which the battles rage in the minds of men devastated by their experience of the horrors. Birmingham Rep's acclaimed production of John Steinbeck's Of Mice And Men continues at the Centenary Square theatre until Saturday in the main house, whilst Dame Janet Suzman plays opposite young Khayalethu Anthony in Lara Foot's Solomon And Marion at The Studio at The Rep. Actor Edward Petherbridge suffered a stroke whilst preparing for the role of King Lear in 2007 yet, remarkably, he could remember every line. Petherbridge features with Paul Hunter in My Perfect Mind, a poignant and comic exploration of human resilience at The Door at The Rep from Tuesday to Saturday.

Russians bringing Ring Cycle to city

BIRMINGHAM Hippodrome undertake a massive opera event with the staging of Wagner's epic Ring Cycle in its entirety next week. The four operas based on Norse sagas, including the story of the hero Siegfried and his Valkyrie lover Brunnhilde, will be conducted by Valery Gergiev with his world-famous Mariinsky Opera. It will bring more than 250 artists from St Petersburg to Birmingham with ten trucks of scenery. There will be four performances over five nights on November 5, 6, 8 and 9 — plus a host of associated events under the umbrella title Ringside, see www.birminghamhippodrome.com website. The cast will include Sir Willard White.

Merry and Kerry in comedy plays

COMEDY rules at Birmingham's New Alexandra Theatre where Su Pollard and Cannon & Ball feature in Ha Ha Hood tonight (Thursday). Then the Hollywood view of Ireland clashes with reality in Kerry comedy Stones In His Pockets on Monday. The comedy veterans team up with Ben Langley as Robin Hood, Prince of Leaves, in a mix of panto and sketch show. Stones In His Pockets blends comedy and tragedy when a movie crew's arrival in a small Irish community has unforeseen results. Two actors play dozens of roles in the play, which was a hit on Broadway.

Patrick Robinson

Casualty (BBC1, 9pm)
It's football derby day in Holby and the fans are getting in the mood with a few pints in the pub – and before long a fight breaks out, requiring the paramedics to be called out. The ED staff are kept on their toes, however, when the violence spills over into the hospital. Meanwhile, a young woman injured at the pub is hiding something from her fiancé, Ash struggles to cope under pressure and Dixie continues to grieve for Jeff. Rita's promotion is announced to the team, and Mac makes a decision about his career. Guest starring Antony Costa (Blue) and former Bill regular Simon Rouse alongside Charles Dale, Lee Mead, Jane Hazlegrove, Patrick Robinson, Chloe Howman, Sunetra Sarker.

Once Upon a Time in Mexico, Channel 5, 10.55pm
 A crazed CIA agent based in Mexico learns of a conspiracy involving a drug baron and a military general to assassinate the president. He finds the perfect man to prevent the coup in the shape of a legendary gunslinger, who is seeking revenge on the general for murdering his wife. Action thriller, concluding Robert Rodriguez's El Mariachi trilogy, starring Antonio Banderas, Johnny Depp, Willem Dafoe, Mickey Rourke and Salma Hayek. (2003)

TUESDAY
In the Valley of Elah, BBC1, 11.40pm
 A retired military investigator's soldier son disappears without trace shortly after returning from Iraq. Frustrated at the police and the army's lack of progress in solving the case, he begins to suspect a cover-up and enlists the aid of a small-town detective in uncovering the truth. Drama, starring Tommy Lee Jones, Charlize Theron and Susan Sarandon. (2007)

American Gangster, Friday, ITV, 10.40pm

WEDNESDAY
Away from Her, BBC1, 11.45pm
 An elderly woman with Alzheimer's disease is adamant she will move into a care home to spare her husband of 50 years the burden of looking after her. Sadly, this leaves him in the heartbreaking position of having to watch helplessly as his beloved wife slips away from him. Drama, based on a short story by Alice Munro, starring Gordon Pinsent, Julie Christie, Olympia Dukakis and Alberta Watson. (2006)

THURSDAY
Badge of Betrayal, Channel 5, 3.15pm
 A woman discovers her supposedly dead son is still alive, his demise having been faked by her ex-husband as part of an elaborate plot to destroy her life. However, finding the evidence to prove her story turns out to be a difficult challenge. Thriller, starring Julie Benz, Matthew Kevin Anderson and Samantha Ferris. (2014)

FRIDAY
American Gangster, ITV, 10.40pm
 The story of 1970s drug kingpin Frank Lucas, whose innovative methods of smuggling heroin into the US made him one of the leading figures in the New York underworld. A detective is assigned to bring Lucas's empire down, but his investigation is undermined by police corruption. Ridley Scott's fact-based crime drama, starring Denzel Washington. (2007)

Celebs aim not to fright on a spooky dance night

We've been treated to some extraordinary sights so far this series – from EastEnder Jake Wood salsa-ing up a storm to Judy Murray literally flinging herself into Anton du Beke's arms during a surprisingly forceful tango.

And that's without even mentioning Movie Week when Mark Wright got be Superman, Scott Mills was transformed into a crab, and Claudia Winkleman threw popcorn into Tess Daly's cleavage.

But it seems that was just a warm-up for tonight's Halloween extravaganza, the show when the make-up and costume departments can really let their imaginations run riot.

Of course, for many of the celebs, every Saturday night so far has been fright night as they try to conquer their nerves and perform in front of millions people. Even the stars you might expect to be used to shaking their stuff in public – like pop star Pixie Lott – admit that Strictly is a whole new experience.

She says: "[The judges] make me nervous! I think they're all great in their own way. My favourite is Darcy Bussell. She's the only ballerina I'd heard of as a young girl. Ballet's such a discipline – she got to the top of her game, which is amazing."

Wood, better known to soap fans as Max Branning, may seem surprisingly at home on the dancefloor, whether he's doing a moody waltz or channelling Elvis in a jive, but he says it's all new to him as well. "I tend not to even dance at a party but I do sometimes dance at home when I'm mucking about with the kids."

Luckily, that hasn't stopped him enjoying the experience. "It's something that's completely out of my comfort zone and I like a challenge. It's such a great Saturday night show and my family always sits down and watches it together so I'm really happy to be involved and I think my kids will really enjoy watching me take part."

It seems likely the 11 remaining stars will be taken even further out of their comfort zones this week, as the professional dancers wrack their brains for more supernatural-themed songs. (In previous years, we've been treated to a Ghostbusters cha cha from Sid Owen, Russell Grant doing the samba to Better the Devil You Know, and Mark Benton performing possibly the world's first intergalactic disco paso doble to I Lost My Heart to a Starship Trooper.)

And they'll still face the terrifying prospect of being judged by Len Goodman, Bruno Tonioli, Craig Revel Horwood and Bussell, although as TOWIE star Wright could tell you, even getting decent scores and encouraging comments can't always save you from that dreaded dance-off.

We'll have to wait for Sunday night to find out who's going home this week, and as an added incentive, the results show will also feature a performance by Annie Lennox. And if anyone's still searching for a Halloween tune, she did once have a hit with Love Song for a Vampire...

Strictly Come Dancing, Saturday, BBC1, 6.30pm

BEST OF THE REST

The Passing Bells BBC1, 7pm

New series. Five-part drama being shown over five nights, in which the First World War unfolds through the eyes of two ordinary young men. Upon the outbreak of hostilities, farmer's son Michael and delivery boy Thomas both defy their parents and slip out to the recruitment office, alongside thousands of other men. After donning their uniforms – one British, one German – each set of parents struggles to cope with their sons' deceptions, before the new recruits set off for training, and while shy Tommy struggles to find his feet, Michael immediately begins to miss girlfriend Katie. Patrick Gibson and Jack Lowden star. Continues tomorrow.

TUESDAY
Live UEFA Champions League ITV, 7.30pm

Real Madrid welcome Liverpool to the Bernabeu for this matchday four Group B fixture. This is the second meeting between the clubs in the space of a fortnight, and the odds are stacked against the Reds here given they suffered a 3-0 defeat at Anfield. Cristiano Ronaldo opened the scoring in typically brilliant fashion and Karim Benzema added two more in the opening 45 minutes. Much was made of Mario Balotelli's subdued performance that saw Brendan Rodgers substitute the striker at half time, but improvements are also needed in defence if the Merseysiders are to have a dramatic reversal in fortunes this evening against the classy defending champions. However, Liverpool did defeat Real 1-0 on their only previous visit to this ground in 2009, but Steven Gerrard and Martin Skrtel are the only survivors from that team, while Iker Casillas, Pepe and Sergio Ramos are the three remaining Madrid players.

WEDNESDAY
Great Continental Railway Journeys BBC2, 9pm

Some celebrities' lives can be re-invented thanks to being in the right place at the right time. Michael Palin for example was considered an unlikely successor to Alan Whicker in the late Eighties when he went Around the World in 80 Days, and in recent years Michael Portillo's railway travels have made for compelling viewing also. Now, armed with his trusty Bradshaw's guide, he's off on the Eurostar to travel overseas and into the past. There he examines how life in Europe 100 years ago was changed forever by the advent of war. His first journey takes in Russia, a country which in 1913 was something of an enigma "poised between reform and revolution," explains Michael. His epic journey takes in Tula, Saint Petersburg and Moscow, among other places, and along the way he is taught how to wash.

THURSDAY
Peaky Blinders BBC2, 9pm

There may be the obvious comparisons with Boardwalk Empire, and Cillian Murphy's Birmingham accent may take a little getting used to, but those niggles are tiny when you consider the stylish brilliance of Steven Knight's epic crime drama. With a top-drawer cast including Helen McCrory and Tom Hardy, series two has made for compelling viewing in recent weeks, and the latest episode is no exception. It's Derby Day at Epsom, and under orders from Major Campbell, Tommy is there to assassinate a high-ranking member of the military establishment. He plans turn the situation to his advantage by bringing his gang to the racecourse and striking a blow at gang boss Sabini – a scheme that could take his organisation to another level.

FRIDAY
Marvel's Agents of SHIELD Channel 4, 8pm

Given the fact Marvel are now one of the most powerful entertainment companies on Earth, with TV shows such as this and pending small screen sagas Daredevil and Agent Carter, there's little wonder DC are fighting back with more helpings of Arrow, Gotham and The Flash. Can Agent Coulson and company win the lion's share of ratings? Well they're certainly going to have a good go with this latest run being the perfect teaser for next spring's blockbuster Avengers: Age of Ultron. This week Phil and the team attempt to utilise the freezing power of Donnie Gill, a lethal Morocco-based individual fans may remember from series one episode, Seeds. The problem is, Simmons is caught in the crossfire.

Infiniti's charge on market

By Graham Breeze

Infiniti sold very few cars in the UK last year but you can expect to see a lot more on our roads with the arrival of a turbocharged petrol version of the Q50 premium sports saloon.

For the confused readers Infiniti is Nissan's up-market offering – the same relationship as Lexus has to Toyota.

And if you haven't seen one on the road you will have seen the name splashed across the side of the Red Bull F1 team – which means the company is serious about exposure.

The Q50 is a mid-size, rear-drive saloon launched to take the opposition head-on at BMW, Audi and Mercedes. And that's going to be no easy task.

The Japanese luxury car producer is determined to increase market share in the next year and the Q50 is set to become their best seller.

It is already available with a 2.2-litre diesel engine or a direct response 3.5-litre petrol/electric hybrid drivetrain.

And there are three trim levels for the diesel models – SE, Premium and Sport, with the Hybrid available in one, fully equipped form only.

The Infiniti may be a rare sight on our roads at the moment but the new petrol option will appeal to a new customer base.

It oozes style and a new lightweight 4-cylinder turbocharged petrol engine now gives performance to match, thanks to 208hp and 258lb/ft (350Nm) of torque via a 7-speed automatic transmission.

'This model handles like a dream on motorways or on country roads, roars when you want it to and is agile enough.'

It gets Euro 5 certified technology and an impressive throttle response that gives an astonishing top speed of 152mph and 0-62mph in 7.5seconds.

You can expect to get over 40mpg on the combined cycle and the car emits 151g/km of CO2 in sport form.

This model handles like a dream on motorways or on country roads, roars when you want it to and is agile enough to be competitive in the sector.

Wood and leather have been used extensively inside to provide a superb cabin area which is dominated by two big colour centre screens – one containing the Sat-Nav system, the other an iPad based system which controls just about everything you can think of.

The Infiniti Q50 takes the idea of a car with a memory to a whole new level. Thanks to 96 selectable settings across 10 functions, possible permutations for personalisation run into the millions.

The system will remember the personal settings for up to four people – three registered users and one guest – covering the areas of life on board, dynamic performance and safety technology.

Hot beast that also likes it nice and slow

By Ian Donaldson

What, you may well ask, is the point of a 200mph car on a road infested with speed cameras ready to catch you at a quarter of that speed?

Well, apart from the fact you can touch the main road speed limit in under three seconds, accompanied by an almighty roar from the rear, there is delight to be had from this car going slowly.

For less than three years since it made its first of a new generation of cars for wealthy owners, McLaren has produced a modern mechanical masterpiece, almost as satisfying while stationary as powering through a favourite corner.

Prices may start the other side of £200,000, and head for the stratosphere if you pile on the tempting options (the seats on the test car cost an extra £5,120 the pair), but this is a car that really does look worth the money. Yes, really.

Based around an incredibly strong tub of exotic carbon fibre with lovely aluminium bits attached, the car stands knee high to a grasshopper and oozes intent in an interestingly non-threatening way.

Somehow the McLaren designers have penned a shape that's very obviously expensive and fast, without dripping with aggressive 'don't mess with me', intent.

Looks

The recent history of McLaren road cars has been a steep learning curve, starting with a machine that looked great on paper (very fast, limpet like on corners) but which didn't set pulses racing like, most obviously, its deadly Ferrari rival.

Well, the 650S knocks that criticism on the head, with looks that halt traffic, especially in the £1,820 worth of special orange paint (yes, here we go again with the options) of the test car.

Not to mention a carbon fibre exterior upgrade (£8,470), smokey stealth wheel finish (£1,140), yellow brake callipers (£910) and carbon fibre sill panels (£2,680).

If all this talk of expense makes you wince, then I'm sorry to say you are not a likely owner of a 650S, being produced at the rate of several a week in an amazing new factory for people very happy to dig deep into their year end bonuses.

Anyway, they'll forget the bottom line when they push the accelerator pedal firmly downwards in second gear, especially with the little rear screen retracted, better to hear the sport exhaust. Sorry, but that's another £4,790. The resultant acceleration, as the twin turbos kick in and more than 640 horses are unleashed, is otherworldly in its force, delivered with one majestic push in the back that you could only safely extend on a race track.

Down at sane and legal speed, you'll have time to delight in a car that rides firmly, but with more calm authority than many a twenty grand hot hatch and is as easy to drive as the family SUV, thanks to automatic transmission that stands ready to drop a gear at the first hint of enthusiastic throttle use.

Then there's the steering, controlled from a delightfully contoured wheel covered in mock suede and telegraphing the state of the road like few cars of recent memory, or a dashboard that quietly gets on with the business of keep the driver informed in a cockpit deliberately devoid of Italian car theatrics.

You could even take the 650S to the supermarket, so long as you don't major on the kitchen towels special offer (there isn't a lot of space to spare) and enjoy a slow drive home with the roof retracted. It takes only seconds and lets you hear that exhaust in compelling surround sound.

Mind the width, though, or you'll scratch those handsome alloys. Better opt too for the rear view camera, even at a cheeky £1,030 extra. Wouldn't bother with £2,680 of sound system upgrade, though. The car makes enough fine noise all by itself, thank you.

New Corsa is a big deal

By Graham Breeze

Vauxhall this week unveiled the brand's most significant car in years with the arrival of a new Corsa.

The supermini is already the third best selling car in Britain but Vauxhall are clearly unhappy to be trailing behind Ford's Fiesta and have come up with a real option.

I've long been boring friends and work colleagues about the virtues of Ford's amazing 1.0 litre EcoBoost so today I'm feeling a little smug that Vauxhall has also recognised its strengths and come up with a genuine rival with a one-litre, three cylinder engine.

You can chose from either 89bhp or 113bhp engines – the 113 being the quickest model available though a VXR is on the way which will develop 200bhp.

The big news is that Vauxhall is so determined to take a slice of Ford's market that prices have been chopped and the 1.0 litre comes in £1,000 cheaper than the Fiesta with prices starting at just under £9,000.

From the outside there are no dramatic changes in appearance but it's under the bonnet that Vauxhall has concentrated efforts on producing improved performance, better fuel consumption, lower emissions and all at a lower price.

Corsa still comes in three and five door versions. The three door is a stylish looker while the five door will prove more popular with the small family buyer.

There are noticeable changes at the front with new headlamps, bonnet, grille and bumper derived from the Adam city car while inside there is a smart new centre console, seven-inch touchscreen system and a more upmarket look. Vauxhall claim the inside is class leading and may just be right.

There's better ride and control thanks to a new lower suspension system bolted on to the basic platform and the 113bhp 1.0-litre three-cylinder turbo tested took just 10.3 seconds to get from 0-62mph.

Vauxhall claims fuel economy of 57.6mpg and 115g/km of CO2 for the 113bhp version and 65.7mpg and 100g/km for the 89bhp model. A new 1.3-litre CDTi diesel is the most frugal, returning up to 88.3mpg with tax-free emissions of 85g/km.

Three new gearboxes – a manual, an automatic and an Easytronic – are available, with improved shift quality and providing greater overall efficiency.

The New Corsa is the first small Vauxhall to be available with the new six-speed, torque converter automatic transmission giving an increased number of ratios.

The new Corsa has a heated front screen – a first for Vauxhall – and £450 will give you an advanced parking system, complete with rear view cameras and side blind spot alerts.

Without testing the model it's hard to explain just how impressive the drive is. It's quiet around town or when being asked to perform and amazing technology means it pulls surprisingly well to reach top speeds. There's enough room in the back for three passengers, though you would not be comfortable over long journeys, and the 285 litre boot is big enough for most things but not the golf clubs. The 60-40 split rear seats don't fold completely flat either.

The outgoing Corsa has been a sales phenomenon for Vauxhall and has been the company's best-selling car for many years, vying with Fiesta for the UK's Number One spot and topping sales charts in Scotland and Northern Ireland outright.

In its last full year, 84,000 were sold, and the UK is now the lead market for Corsa by a large margin – Germany was the second biggest market in 2013 with around 50,000 sales.

Make no mistake this fourth generation Corsa is a big deal for Vauxhall and a fortune has been invested to ensure it becomes the company's most important player. Friends and colleagues beware! I'm going to be preaching about the amazing three cylinder 1.0 litre Corsa engine for a very long time

An Impreza impresses with simple plain logic

By Ian Donaldson

How can you not warm to a car when the man charged with selling hundreds of them tells you the company 'went through a pretty sticky patch three or four years ago.'

Refreshingly honest as that statement was, you know he'd only utter the words if the world did not look a rosier place today to sell us . . . a Subaru.

And it does, principally because the country where the cars come from – Japan – is now much weaker economically compared to the United Kingdom than it was, three or four years ago.

That means your pound goes a lot further today when you have to buy something in yen from Japan, as the importers of Subarus to the UK must do before they have something to sell us here.

So, quite suddenly, it's worth expanding the Subaru dealer network in anticipation of a sales surge and worth bringing in models that quite recently would have been too expensive to consider.

The car you see here is a prime example of this new-found value. For the same sort of money you need for something like a Ford Focus you can turn instead to a Subaru Impreza and discover a car that's very deliberately different.

The differences go deep, with features fitted as standard that are either expensive extras or simply not offered on mainstream rivals, like the Focus and a host of other big-sellers.

Top of the list (and no surprise to Subaru fans) is permanent four-wheel drive; it's the proper deal, not the half-hearted on-demand system rivals sometimes offer and which only chimes in when wheels start to spin.

It gives the rather ordinary looking Impreza hatchback the all weather grip that makes it instantly attractive to people like vets and rural doctors . . . not to mention the district nurse imagined by Subaru's UK chief as an ideal prospective buyer.

She (or he, of course) would find this useful technology packaged in a car that costs surprisingly little, starting at £17,495 for the manual gearbox version and rising to £18,995 for a car with automatic gears.

That model is a bit slower but actually a little more economical than the manual in the official tests and produces fewer tailpipe emissions, for a £15 annual saving in annual road tax.

Improvement

Not that either version is a star in the economy stakes. Both feature the same engine, as usual with a Subaru it has its four cylinders set flat and low down between the front wheels, for a (theoretical) improvement in the way the car handles corners.

It's always had a liking for petrol, although with nothing like the thirst of the famed rally Subarus of a decade or so ago; now reborn and available in roadgoing trim as the £28,995 WRX STI, which will happily return less than 20mpg used with enthusiasm.

You might get double that in the Impreza tested here (actually 38mpg on the test drive) which may be good enough not to put off potential purchasers.

They will be more attracted to the fair pile of standard kit that comes with today's very reasonably priced Impreza, from climate control air conditioning, heated front seats and cruise control to Bluetooth, eight airbags and a reversing camera.

They might miss a sixth speed in the manual gearbox and would certainly welcome a bit more power from an engine that sounds nicely enthusiastic when pushed but lacks the verve the all-wheel drive system could easily handle.

No problems with the ride, though, which lets the car flow nicely on broken British road surfaces, thanks in part to the fitment of modestly sized alloy wheels and tyres with decently tall sidewalls.

That's a typically sensible feature in a car that feels sensible all the way through, from an interior that prefers plain logic to plush contrivance and even to a warranty that might last you 100,000 miles.

New style details and equipment for Prius+

By Matt Joy

Prius+, Europe's market-leading seven-seat hybrid MPV, is being re-groomed for 2015 with new styling details, equipment features and colour choices. The first major changes for Prius+ since launch in 2012 give the car a stronger look that takes up Toyota's latest design cues.

The revised front-end features a new upper grille and a more prominent Toyota badge that extends the forward line of the bonnet. There are new LED headlights, too, which use a cylindrical projector for both high and low beam. Their slim profile and contrasting black and chrome plating give Prius+ a distinctive sharp-eyed appearance.

The lower grille adopts the trapezoid shape that's a common feature of the latest Toyota models. With a gloss black metallic finish, it adds emphasis to the car's broad stance. The impression of width is reinforced by a re-working of the bumper corners, given extra emphasis in a flowing form that extends from the headlights to the new air intakes and LED daytime running lights.

At the rear there's a new combination lamp design with "light guide" treatment and red inner lenses that give the car an individual lighting signature. Following the styling themes adopted at the front, there is a new licence plate trim and bumper with an integrated diffuser.

In Europe, two new body colours will be available: Dark Sherry metallic and Attitude Black mica (details of UK colours will be announced later).

Changes in the cabin include a dark silver metallic finish for the driver's switchgear and the air conditioning dial control and a chrome finish for the door handles.

There are two new chrome-trimmed, slim-line air vents in the centre console and a new 4.2-inch colour TFT information screen, controlled using switchgear on the steering wheel.

Maximise

As well as basic information such as clock, trip indicator, cruising range fuel consumption, the screen also displays the Hybrid System Indicator and Energy monitor – features common to all Toyota hybrids. It also provides a new "Eco Judge" function, designed to help the driver maximise the powertrain's efficiency, giving a points score for their eco-driving style.

The screen will also mirror the settings for the air conditioning and audio settings, keeping them in the driver's line of sight when on the move.

The 2015 Prius+ is fitted as standard with the Toyota Touch 2 multimedia system, including touchscreen control, Bluetooth and reversing camera. This can be upgraded – Toyota Touch 2 with Go – to provide additional satellite navigation, live traffic information and, via Toyota's online portal, an expanded range of connected services, text-to-speech function and 3D city modelling with landmark graphics.

The equipment upgrade extends to the availability of electric seat adjustment, a front centre armrest and Intelligent Park Assist.

Safety features have also been improved with the introduction of an emergency brake signal, which triggers all side indicators in the event of sudden braking. Hill-start Assist Control is automatically activated when the car detects an uphill gradient.

Toyota has also improved Prius+ ride and handling, making adjustments to the suspension damping force. New sound absorption material has been introduced in the side of the rear compartment to reduce noise intrusion in the cabin.

The hybrid powertrain has been upgraded to comply with Euro6 emissions standards.

New CR-V is on way but outgoing still a good buy

By Sharon Walters

Honda has taken the wraps off its revised CR-V SUV. The Japanese car maker has also announced upgrades in the form of a more powerful 1.6-litre diesel engine plus the addition of a new nine-speed automatic gearbox.

It will be with us next year but in the meantime the existing CR-V is still worth a look and bargains may be had at dealerships.

At first sight the Honda CR-V is one of those vehicles that might not jump off the page at you but more than earns its crust as an ownership proposition.

The 2.2-litre i-DETEC diesel has been popular in the UK and disappears next year. With this diesel, there's only a four-wheel drive chassis. It gets to 62mph in a modest 9.7 seconds. The four-wheel drive CR-V sends all of its power to the front wheels when you're driving on road, and there's no need to mess about with extra gear levers or buttons. It does all the thinking for you, diverting drive to the rear wheels only when it feels that the fronts might have a little too much to do.

There's nothing especially striking about the look of this MK4 CR-V. But the cleverness inside more than makes up for that. Take the rear seat folding mechanism. This is something you'll get benefit from day in, day out. Pull a little fabric handle and the seat base tumbles forward, the seat back dips down and the rear headrest tucks in snugly. Even with these rear seats in place, there's a cavernous 589 litres of space, so there really is room for five and their luggage in this car. Drop the rear seats and within seconds you have 1146 litres at your disposal. The load length is 1570mm and coupled with a relatively low boot lid, make it easier to load heavy or awkward items. The boot of the CR-V can now accommodate two mountain bikes or four sets of golf clubs not that I ever do that but I do have to cart walking gear, my other weekend away kit, a dog and all his paraphernalia. And it copes beautifully.

Generous

There are all sorts of other little design details that make the CR-V just easier to live with than many of its rivals. For instance anyone sitting in the middle rear seat doesn't have to tuck their legs under their chin because of a big transmission tunnel down the middle of the car. In the Honda, the floor is completely flat. Headroom in the back is generous. Big windows make the rear feel airy and access is excellent.

For a basic specification model you get quite a lot including 17-inch alloy wheels, dual zone climate control, cruise control, height and lumbar adjustable driver's seat, an auxiliary and USB connection for the stereo, a multi-function steering wheel, that superb one-motion rear seat folding mechanism and heated door mirrors. As you go up the range additions include a power tailgate, HDD satellite navigation, leather seats and a panoramic glass roof.

Safety is very well taken care of with even the entry-level cars getting a whole host of kit including vehicle stability assist, trailer stability assist, hill start assist, hill descent control and the usual roster of airbag and clever braking technology. It's only the top two trims in the range that offer the option of a camera and radar system that brings into play adaptive cruise control, collision mitigation braking and lane keeping assist. Overall then, a strong showing when it comes to equipment, but so you'd expect at these prices.

Honda's EcoAssist might help you improve your economy a little. It's a standard feature on all CR-Vs and as you drive more smoothly, avoiding heavy acceleration and braking, the ambient meter around the speedometer glows green; brake or accelerate sharply and the ambient meter around the speedometer illuminates blue. This ECON button helps achieve maximum fuel efficiency in real-world driving situations. When activated, fuel economy is improved by adjusting the performance of the engine transmission, air conditioning and cruise control, to help save a little extra fuel.

For the revised version the exterior receives a new look, with new headlamps, front grille, fog lights, skid-plate and bumper; while at the rear, new LED combination lamps, a refreshed tailgate design and bumper complete the refresh.

Four-wheel drive variants will now be available with the firm's higher power 160 horsepower 1.6-litre four-cylinder diesel engine, which in manual gearbox guise promises a class-leading sub 130g/km of CO₂ – an 11 per cent improvement compared to the previous unit.

This new engine replaces the 2.2-litre diesel in the CR-V and, when combined with the nine-speed auto, Honda expects CO₂ emissions of less than 135g/km – 20 per cent better than its predecessor. But the outgoing model still performs well and as mentioned before, bargains may be had.

The two-wheel drive diesel CR-V, available with a manual transmission, will continue to be equipped with the 120 horsepower 1.6 litre diesel engine, now with emissions down to 117g/km of CO₂.

Honda says that the new-look CR-V has been developed and engineered for European drivers, and the car will be built at the firm's state-of-the-art plant in Swindon, UK. More good news for the UK car industry.

When only the best will do

By Anthony Martyn

Car manufacturers have had to work hard to dispel the popular image of the used car salesman.

Look around the market today at the many manufacturer-led used car programmes and you'll have to agree that the industry has polished up its image more than a little.

One such scheme is Ford Direct, available from specially appointed Ford Direct dealers who have undergone as rigid an assessment as the cars themselves. Ford Direct dealers are professionals. But don't worry that you'll be pressured into buying a car you don't want – that's another image the motor industry has worked hard to dispel.

There are several clear plus points to consider – there's a comprehensive two-year warranty, two-year's full RAC recovery within the car price, a 30-day/1,000 mile 'no quibble' exchange policy and preparation to Ford standards. Should you wish to change your car, Ford will cover any of the costs involved and cover the next vehicle you choose with the same 30-day/1,000 mile guarantee (though this time, the car must be faulty if you want to swap it).

The two-year warranty covers every component and consequential damage caused by a warranted part failure. Catalytic converters are covered too, though the scheme doesn't include provision for wear and tear. There's no mileage limit on claims you can make, the value of which are limited only by the price you paid for the car.

The validity of warranty cover has long been a worry for buyers. With Ford Direct they know that they're dealing with one of the professionals and that their warranty will be absolutely watertight should a problem occur.

The scheme is based around Ford cars of up to four years in age and with less than 50,000 miles on the clock. Ford Direct cars come from Ford's own management fleet and the large rental firms. Before delivering to dealers, Ford will inspect and recondition each car at a purpose-built facility.

Here, if the car has completed more than 9,000 miles, it's given a full 10,000-mile service and its records and service history are brought up to date. Then there are exhaustive preliminary checks, which cover every aspect of the car's bodywork and mechanical condition.

For example, amongst many tests, the car will be rejected if any dents are visible from a two metre distance at an angle of ninety degrees to the bodywork or if any of the exterior trim, bumpers or body protection mouldings are found to be cracked, split, dented or loose.

Other checks are no less thorough, covering everything from the state of the windshield and window glass to the locks and from the power steering fluid level to the security and free play of the driveshaft.

Once everything's done – and after a thorough road test – the RAC will check that standards are up to scratch and apply a tamper-proof hologram to the windshield. That visible symbol of quality and reassurance is a welcome part of the scheme.

There's two year's RAC cover included, though you only get the additional accident management policy if you choose to insure your car with Ford. If the RAC can't fix your car within 24 hours, you get a replacement hire car for up to a week. Or there's the option of a night's hotel for you and your passengers or paid-for public transport to get home or to your destination.

'Ford was praised by What Car? in a survey of manufacturer warranty programmes for its innovative used

At any Ford Direct dealer, you'll find a sales team with time to discuss your needs – go into detail about the car you want to buy and ask for information about finance too. Do business with an organisation that has the Ford name behind it and you'll find plenty of choice – and flexibility.

Sheer size can be daunting, of course, but individual dealers pride themselves on personal service. Your business matters, whether you're buying a Fiesta or a fleet.

Every customer will benefit from the huge network which Ford Direct has established. Tap into the computer database, which contains thousands of used cars, and your dealer will find just what you want – even down to colour and trim. Customers can choose their model from stock displayed on the dealership's direct-link computer.

Ford is acknowledged as the master of simplicity when it comes to company brochures. Refer with ease to all aspects of the scheme.

Buy a car from Ford Direct and the financial options are varied and flexible. The Options Plan has proved popular.

NOTICE TO READERS
Please be aware that when purchasing a puppy there are some simple guidelines you can follow to ensure that you are not purchasing from a Puppy Farmer:

1. Try to ensure you visit the puppy whilst it is still with its Mother.
2. Do not arrange to collect a puppy from any other location than that of the breeder.
3. Ensure that you are given any KC documentation, if pedigree. Whilst Midland News Association publications take great care to avoid publication of advertisements from Puppy Farmers we cannot accept any liability should readers purchase from this kind of establishment.

HIGHWAYS AGENCY

ROAD TRAFFIC REGULATION ACT 1984-SECTION 14(1)(A) THE A5 TRUNK ROAD (LONGFORD TO CHURCHBRIDGE, STAFFORDSHIRE) (TEMPORARY RESTRICTION AND PROHIBITION OF TRAFFIC) ORDER 2014

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Secretary of State for Transport has made an Order on the A5 Trunk Road, between Longford and Churchbridge, near Cannock in the County of Staffordshire, to allow resurfacing and associated works to be carried out.

- The effect of the Order will be to –
1. impose a 30 miles per hour speed restriction on the eastbound and westbound carriageways of the A5 between the roundabout junction with the A4601 Wolverhampton Road (Longford Island) and the roundabout junction with the A460 and A34 Walsall Road (Churchbridge Roundabout); and
 2. prohibit vehicles from entering or proceeding in the laybys adjacent to –
a. the westbound carriageway of the A5 situated 445 metres east of the centrepiece of Longford Island; and
b. the eastbound carriageway of the A5 situated 535 metres east of the centrepiece of Longford Island.

The work will be carried out between 09:00 hours and 16:00 hours and overnight between 20:00 hours and 06:00 hours and is expected to start on Monday 10 November 2014 and continue for approximately twelve weeks. The layby closures will be in operation for 24 hours per day for the duration of the works. The Order will come into force on Monday 3 November 2014.

Vehicles being used by special forces will be exempt from the speed restriction. Vehicles being used by the emergency services will be exempt from the speed restriction and prohibition and vehicles being used in connection with the works will be exempt from the prohibition. For further information, please contact Purnima Kaul on 0121 687 8586.

Mike Lloyd, a Higher Executive Officer in the Highways Agency.

THE COUNCIL IS TO CONSIDER THE FOLLOWING PLANNING PROPOSALS

HAVE YOU CHECKED your advertisement today? We would respectfully remind advertisers that it is their responsibility to inform the publishers of any mistakes or inaccuracies on the first day of publication.

ADVERTISEMENTS CONDITIONS OF ACCEPTANCE

1. Midland News Association Limited All publications in this group are published by the Midland News Association Limited, registered office Queen Street, Wolverhampton WV1 1ES ('the Company') and this is the address to which any notices should be sent.
2. Acceptance The Company will only accept advertising on these standard terms and no other contract terms or conditions will apply other than those which are implied by statute and cannot lawfully be excluded. In particular the Company will not accept advertising on the basis of advertiser's terms and conditions.
3. Content of Advertisements All advertisements must be legal, decent, honest and truthful. Advertisements must comply with the British Code of Advertising Practice and all other codes under the general supervision of the Advertising Standards Authority. Advertisements must comply with the requirements of all current legislation including but not limited to the following:- All advertisements must clearly differentiate between trade and private advertising as required by the Business Advertisements (Disclosure) Order 1977. Advertisements offering credit or hire facilities must comply with the Consumer Credit (Advertisement) Regulations 1980. All descriptions of goods must be accurate and in no way infringe the provisions of the Trademarks Descriptions Act 1968. Advertisements must not contain any material which is defamatory. You must have permission to use any material contained in your advertisement and must not infringe the copyright moral rights or any other right of any third party. The Company reserves the right to refuse to carry any advertisement or to require amendment of any advertisement in its absolute discretion.
4. Appearance of Advertisements Whilst the Company makes every effort to comply with requests, publication on a particular date or in a particular position cannot be guaranteed. The Company reserves the right to alter, suspend, cancel or reject an advertisement at its discretion even after the same has been accepted for publication without being liable to compensate you. You will not be charged for any advertisement which will only be charged for the advertisements in the series which actually appear. The Company does not guarantee the publication or extent of supporting editorial and your obligation to pay for advertising will not under any circumstances be dependent upon the appearance or content of editorial. No liability will be accepted for non-appearance of editorial. The Company does not guarantee that advertising will not appear for similar or the same subject matter to your advertisement and no liability shall be accepted as a result of such advertising appearing. It is the advertiser's responsibility to provide any amended copy, whether by electronic or other format, and the Company does not guarantee that it will be able to or will agree to modify, amend or alter any file or copy supplied to it.
5. Liability The Company's liability for any loss or damage caused by any error or omission in the advertisement or any other breach of contract shall not in any circumstances exceed a full refund of any price paid by the advertiser to the Company for the publication of the advertisement or the cost of a further or corrective advertisement of the same type as that which originally appeared. Where a series of advertisements is booked the Company's liability shall not in any circumstances exceed the value of the first advertisement in the series. In the event of any error, misprint or omission in the publication of the advertisement the Company will either re-publish the advertisement or the relevant parts of the advertisement or make a reasonable refund of or adjustment to the cost of the advertisement. If the error does not materially detract from the advertisement then no re-publication, reprint or adjustment will be made. It is the advertiser's responsibility to check the content of advertisements and the Company will not accept any liability for loss or damage, or obligation to republish or make a refund or adjustment, arising from re-publication of an advertisement containing an error, misprint or omission which has not been identified by the advertiser after first publication.
6. Box numbers The Company accepts no liability for loss or damage caused by delay in forwarding or omission to forward to the advertiser replies to Box Numbers. Box Numbers must not be used for sending goods, distributing circulars or communications from agents. The Company reserves the right to open and inspect all replies to Box Number and to destroy goods, circulars or communications from agents which are discovered during an inspection.
7. Inspection The Company shall be entitled at any time to inspect any goods or services advertised and may decline to carry further advertising if such inspection is not permitted or if the Company's opinion of the provision of further advertising facilities is not appropriate in view of the nature or quality of the goods or services.
8. Indemnity The advertiser, including any advertising agency involved in placing any advertisement, warrants that it has permission to use for publication by electronic and printed means all material which is included in the advertisement. The advertiser and any advertising agency involved in placing any advertisement agree to indemnify the Company in respect of all charges, costs, claims or damage arising out of the publication of the advertisement, whether the same result from actual or threatened legal action or from some other cause.
9. Cancellation On a request for cancellation or amendment of a classified advertisement being accepted, you will be given a cancellation or amendment number which must be quoted in all subsequent correspondence. Payment of the originally agreed price will be required in full for any advertisement in relation to which the advertiser is unable to supply a valid cancellation or amendment number. Cancellation can only be accepted if the Company is notified of the cancellation by no later than the following deadlines:-
Lineage, Semi Display - By no later than 6.30pm on the working day prior to publication. Advertisements to appear on Monday must be cancelled by 10 am on the preceding Saturday
Classified Display - By no later than 24 hours before the date of publication
Colour/Features - By no later than 10 clear days before the date of publication
To cancel Lineage, Semi Display and Classified Display advertisements please telephone 01902 317878. To cancel Colour/Features advertisements please speak to the Representative through whom the advertisement was booked.
10. Rates Advertising rates are as laid out in the Company's current rate card which is available on request from the Company's offices. The rates may be varied from time to time in the Company's absolute discretion and without prior notification of the intended variation. The revised rate will be charged for any advertising ordered after the date of variation.
All gross advertising rates except classified line and semi-display are subject to a 0.1% Advertising Standards Board of Finance levy payable by advertisers to help finance the self-regulatory system administered by the Advertising Standards Authority.
11. Payment The Company reserves the right to require pre-payment as a condition of any advertisement being published. Where pre-payment is not required unless different credit terms have been agreed with the advertiser in writing payment must be made within 14 days of the date of issue of the Company's invoice. An additional £2.00 booking charge will be payable if the invoice is not paid in full within this 14 day period.
Any additional credit facilities which are offered are at the Company's absolute discretion. The advertiser's liability shall be for the full amount of all advertising ordered and shall not be limited to the amount of any credit which the Company may impose.
Payment may be made by [method] cash, cheque or credit/debit card. The advertiser's obligation to pay for other items on an account shall not be affected by the existence of any query over an individual item within that account.
12. Data Protection Act The advertiser's details will be retained by the Company for the purposes of administering our accounts records and so that the Company may notify the advertiser of future advertising opportunities which may be of interest to you. By placing advertising with the Company the advertiser agrees to your details being used for this purpose.
13. Applicable Law These conditions of acceptance shall be governed by and interpreted in accordance with the law of England and Wales.

CANNOCK hosted Loughborough Students in their latest Investec Women's Hockey League Conference North match-up and started well. Loughborough had a couple of opportunities foiled by Cannock's keeper Jo Carpay before the host had two good scoring opportunities of their own. Cannock played well, including player of the match Beth Archer, but were left frustrated when the visitors clinched the points with a deflected penalty corner strike eight minutes from time. University of Birmingham 3 Cannock 1
Facing what is the country's fifth best team, Cannock again played well, starting solidly and taking the lead through a fine volleyed finish by their player of the match Ruth Graham. Birmingham claimed an equaliser 10 minutes later and scored another before the break to make it 2-1. The second half saw the hosts try to assert their superiority but Cannock produced a superb effort to weather the storm. But the students fitness told in the end as Birmingham were able to add a late goal.

Batchelor boost for Pitmen

THE signing of midfielder Richard Batchelor from league Conference North rivals Leamington will provide an essential boost for Hednesford manager Rob Smith. The 26-year-old made more than 150 appearances for The Brakes during his five year stay and will be no stranger to his new teammates after facing them on numerous occasions. Smith will be desperate for his side to make an immediate response after suffering a humiliating exit from the Staffs Senior Cup on Tuesday night. Defender James Hurst faces a further 10 days on the sidelines with a hamstring injury while Jamey Osbourne is suspended.

Fight club keeps pumping out the boxers

GREAT Wyrley ABC's season continues at breakneck speed with a further three of its boxer's in action last week. On Thursday in Cradley, 18-year-old Lightweight Mitch Roberts' winning start to the season continued with a unanimous points decision over home boxer Ishmal Hussain (Lions ABC). Boxing without head guards and over three three, minute rounds for the first time, Roberts beat the taller Hussain to the punch time and time again, his jab proving very effective. Hussain did a lot of work in the ring, but rarely found Roberts there to be a target which gave him the upper hand during the bout. A strong last round from the impressive Wyrley boxer, where his right hand, left hook combination found the target time and time again sealed a unanimous point's decision for Roberts whose busy start to the season continues with two bouts in the next two weeks. On Friday night in Donnington, the latest in Great Wyrley ABC female boxers made her debut. Fifteen-year-old Sarah Wicklen made her debut in a skills bout with fellow first timer Donnington ABC's Jazmin Griffiths. The two girls showed a great deal of skill and the large crowd gave them a very generous round of applause at the end of their bout. Thirteen-year-old Wyrley boxer Daniel Hodson got back to winning ways when he overpowered Donningtons game Ricky Luke in two rounds to gain the victory. Hodson made a fast start getting behind his jab and targeting his stocky opponents body from the off. Luke was having trouble keeping the busy Wyrley boxer off when the bell ended the first. It was more of the same in the second and a big right uppercut brought the Donnington boxer a standing count. When Hodson kept the pressure on his opponent the referee rightly stepped in to stop the contest to bring the impressive Hodson his third win out of six bouts. There are a few tickets left for Great Wyrley ABC's show on Saturday November 1 at Great Wyrley Sports and Social Club. Doors open at 7pm. For more details or information then contact 07957 601 424.

Cannock come out on top of intense game

Cannock 26 Bromyard 15
CANNOCK hosted Bromyard in a top of the league clash. Physicality and intensity were the game plan after a few lax weeks.

Bromyard showed their intentions early with some tight phases and a lot of kicking. Luckily Jordan Pincombe was at the end of most of these so nothing to panic about. Dan Mayle nearly broke away after an interception and the early signs were good. After 10 minutes of play, fly half Scott Pedley had to revert to scrum half with Iain Whitmell filling up the 10 spot. Bromyard went over after a rolling maul and took the lead. Skipper Jon Freeman was denied just short but Brad Stanaway showed great power to bundle over taking three defenders with him for the score. Frustrations continued to be evident and after their No.10 put them 5-8 in front he then kicked for touch from another penalty. Again a strong rolling maul and Bromyard were two scores in front with no possession at all. In the second half started and Cannock decided it was best to keep their discipline, after a storming run from man of the match Craig Richards, Whitmell found Nick Platek who found B Stanaway who went over. Scott Pedley went down with a knee injury and Carl Palmer suffered neck problemst. Daniel Blake went toinside centre and Stephen Frost to No.9. This seemed to have the

Opponents turn out to be real Beests

Cannock 2 Beeston 4
CANNOCK hosted Midlands rivals Beeston in their latest NOW Pensions National League fixture. After 6 minutes ex-Cannock player Stuart Pilgrim deflected the ball into the net to put Beeston a goal ahead. A minute later Cannock's Arjun Drayton Chana presented Mark Daniel with the first of his two goals. Beeston's Sam Ward put them back in the lead with a deflection from a penalty corner. After the break it was Cannock who struck first with a second goal from Mark Daniels to level the scores. But it was Beeston who took the initiative with Sam Ward scoring a goal from open play and then a penalty to complete his hat-trick and seal the Beeston win. On Sunday Cannock took on Conference side Bowdon in the NOW Pensions English Hockey Cup. As defending Champions, Cannock was keen to do their best to retain their crown. Despite Bowdon finding the net twice, goals from Cannock's Nick Bandurak, Dave Harris and Martin Ebbage saw the Cup Champions through to the next round. Elsewhere Cannock's The seconds, thirds and fourths sit at the top of their respective leagues with 100 per cent records. .

Wellington boot the Lockmen

Wellington Amateurs 2 Willenhall 0
WILLENHALL dropped into the West Midlands Premier relegation zone after losing at Wellington Amateurs. The strangely lethargic Lockmen never hit top gear and had conceded two early chances before Graham Ashton fired high and wide on 12 minutes. The home side were building up a head of steam and went close on several occasions and it was no surprise when they conceded on 35 minutes when they allowed Louis Jones a free header. Wellington stretched their lead when a 66th-minute break caught the visiting defence out and Gabriel Pavlulik fired home.

We have more says, Edwards

DAVE Edwards claims there is still another 20 per cent to come from Wolves.

Wolves returned to winning ways with Tuesday's 2-0 victory over fancied Middlesbrough and then continued with a win over Leeds.

"We're at maybe 75 to 80 per cent of what we can potentially produce so, with that extra 20 per cent to come, we can do good things," said Edwards, a veteran of the 2008-09 Championship-winning team.

"I don't think we've completely clicked yet and that's something to take confidence from. We've had a disappointing couple of weeks with not picking up many of the right results but we haven't lost many games either."

Peach of a conversion levels the match

Clee Hill 10 Burntwood 10

BURNTWOOD'S first ever fixture with Clee Hill ended even, a fair result given the hosts dominated the first half whilst the visitors had the better of the second period.

The hosts won the try scoring by two to one but they lacked a kicker of Will Peach's accuracy, the outside half superbly converting his late try having kicked a penalty goal early in the contest.

Burntwood looked good in the opening 10 minutes despite a coach journey of nearly two hours to get to the ground. In the first minute Will Marsh set up a penalty kick for goal after making ground down the right touchline and chipping ahead only to be barged illegally off the ball.

Peach slid his kick right of the goal on this occasion but following some good phases of play in the opposition half he was presented with another opportunity and this time he was successful from 30 metres to open the scoring.

However, when he missed touch with a penalty kick eight minutes later no-one could have predicted what happened next. The home full back set off on a diagonal run inside his own 22 and out paced the Burntwood defence for an American Football style kick return touchdown covering 70 metres.

Suitably encouraged by taking the lead in such spectacular fashion, Clee Hill kept play deep in Burntwood territory for the rest of the half. A penalty award two minutes into the second half led to Clee Hill's second try. The ball was kicked for a line out. With the ball secured the scrum half exposed some weak cover close to the forwards and he fed the full back who scored. Burntwood were now in real danger of losing their unbeaten start to the league season.

Peach and Brett Taylor put their side in good field position on several occasions by punting kicks to the corners but with the Burntwood line out misfiring they couldn't capitalise until the last five minutes.

A sustained attack took play right and then wide left for Peach to follow up and stretch over the line close to the corner flag. Faced with a touchline conversion, he expertly split the uprights to bring the scores level.

Sako in race to get back fitness

TOP scorer Bakary Sako is facing a race against time to make Wolves' derby showdown with Blues on Saturday.

The seven-goal forward missed Saturday's 2-1 win at Leeds with the groin strain that forced him off late on in the 2-0 victory over Middlesbrough last Tuesday. Sako is hopeful of being available for the televised visit of Birmingham, who appointed Gary Rowett as their new manager yesterday to replace the sacked Lee Clark.

But boss Kenny Jackett said: "We'll wait and see how he develops later in the week. It may be Thursday or Friday before we find out whether he's available for Saturday."

"I thought he'd be fit (for Leeds) but he didn't quite make it. It's a groin injury, it's not too much but sometimes they can take a week or two."

"I'll give him until Thursday and maybe until Friday."

Jackett acknowledged his contribution and admitted the former Derby man needs more games to be more effective.

"He did fine and the more games he plays, the stronger he'll get," he said.

Chasetown 1 Spalding Utd 1

HONOURS were even in a closely-fought Evo-Stik Division One South game with neither side dominating enough to deserve all three points.

The defences were largely on top but Chasetown edged ahead at the end of a good spell of attacking football, seven minutes before half-time.

Nick Wellecome ran over a free-kick which completely wrong-footed Spalding goalkeeper Michael Duggan and Lee Butler curled a beautiful strike into the keeper's opposite corner.

Wellecome went close to getting his head on a Richard Davies cross but Duggan was commanding and punched clear.

Just before the interval, Wellecome teed up Butler whose shot on the turn skidded along the ground and Duggan clung on well.

At the start of the second half, the visitors took control of the game and levelled just short of the hour when Andy Tidswell steered home a cross past Chase keeper John Bateman.

Duggan remained in control in the Lincolnshire side's goal, punching the ball off the head of Lee Parsons from a Butler cross, just prior to goalscorer Butler hobbling out of the action with an injury.

Both sides had spells of possession but it was Chasetown who would say they had the better chances to win the game.

Substitute Danny Edwards dragged a shot well wide of the post from the edge of the area and a late free-kick right on the edge of the penalty area was fired over the wall but also over the bar from Wellecome.

Chasetown: Bateman, Johnson, Haynes, Slater, Miles, Downes, Butler (Edwards 53), Parsons, Wellecome, Waite (McDonald 80), Davies (Theo Robinson 85). Subs not used: Evans, Lees.

● Jordi Sall has entered a competition to become the next Indian Superstar.

So far Sall has done very well and has reached the final of the competition which is due to be held at Wembley.

Jordi had his first taste of first team action recently when he spent time warming up with the Scholars' first team before their 5-0 victory over Norton United in the FA Trophy.

Should Sall be able to make a first team appearance he would join Parminder Matharu with seven appearances, and one goal (1995-96), Darhminder "Tini" Kaila six appearances (2000-01) and Harry Singh five appearances (2001-02) as Asian players who have played for Chasetown.

Scholars' Richard Davies is on the charge against Spalding during the game which ended in a 1-1 draw

Dunstall may lose meetings

WOLVERHAMPTON Racecourse could lose around eight meetings next year after the British Horseracing Authority announced a cut in all-weather winter fixtures.

But bosses at Dunstall Park insisted it is "business as usual" with the course set to remain the busiest in Britain.

The BHA revealed some all-weather and National Hunt races will be removed from next year's programme in a bid to address issues regarding "uncompetitive small-field races".

Sporting Khalsa 5 Wellington 1

SPORTING Khalsa kept pace with league frontrunners Bridgnorth with a routine 5-1 win over Wellington.

Goals from Lee Wherton, Brad Lawley, Marvin Nisbett and a Nicky Campbell brace were enough to see off the visitors from Herefordshire, ensuring a fifth straight win for Khalsa.

Campbell doubled the lead soon afterwards, excellent work down the left by Nisbett saw his cross converted in style.

Bannister surged forward on 35 minutes, breaking the offside trap and lashing a shot which needed the intervention of Ben Thomas to stop it hitting the net.

With seconds left in the first half, Campbell was denied by a good save from Mancui. Khalsa's third arrived on 58 minutes when a Tim Jackson corner was steered goalwards by Jamie Oliver and Nisbett poked home. Campbell grabbed his second on 75 minutes.

Wellington grabbed one back through Aaron Morgan before Brad Lawley scored in stoppage time.

We must win – Chambers

CAPTAIN Adam Chambers has urged Walsall to ensure Saturday's win over Chesterfield is a turning point in their season.

The win ended a three-game losing run and moved the Saddlers out of the League One relegation zone.

Chambers acknowledges much still needs to be done before the campaign is turned around and is eager for them to now kick on and follow the performance up when they visit Notts County this weekend.

"We are hoping Saturday is going to be the turning point for the season and we can start kicking on now," he said.

"We feel that we are in a bit of a false position – we've been a bit inconsistent but with some of the performances we've put in, we feel we should be higher up the table. But you've got to win games."

It's fourth time unlucky for the Scholars

Newcastle 2 Chasetown 1

AT the fourth time of asking this season Newcastle Town finally got the better of visitors Chasetown with a 2-1 victory.

In what was an even first half saw what few chances there were fall the home side's way but neither side could get on the score-board.

Matt Lowe forced two saves from John Bateman while Chasetown's best attempt saw Nick Wellcome's right-footed effort saved by Ryan Boot in the home goal.

the home side almost added a second when Elliott Osbourne hit the crossbar.

Tom France doubled the home side's lead with just over 20 minutes remaining of the game.

He sent a driving the ball into an empty net after Bateman's punched cross fell to the midfielder's feet giving him a straight-forward shot at goal which he couldn't really ignore.

CHASETOWN pulled a goal back when Jack Lees poked home a Simon Brown free-kick but it was too little too late for The Scholars to get back in the game and they came away after being beaten.

● Rushall Olympic were beaten 3-0 by Barwell at Dales Lane – to make it five Northern Premier League, Premier Division, losses in a row for Richard Sneekes' struggling side.

The hosts were under the cosh from the off when Jon Stevenson had the first effort of the game for Barwell but fired straight at goalkeeper Cameron Belford from a wide angle.

Potters prove to be fitter

Heath Hayes 1 Stoke 3
HEATH Hayes went out of the senior cup to a full time Stoke side.

The first half was an even game but it was Stoke who went in at half time 2-0 nil up from two well rehearsed set pieces.

Stoke's fitness showed in the second half but it was Hayes who pulled a goal back through Tom Baggot, then went on to miss two one on one chances to even the game only for the Potters to scramble a last min goal.

Colehill Town 6 Heath Hayes 1

HEATH Hayes collapsed under constant second half pressure from a rampant Colehill side.

After playing quite well first half they were unfortunate to go in at half time 2-0 down, firstly Matty Brown's lucky looping header could have gone anywhere but found it's way into the net, and then in first half injury time keeper Tom Burns made a hash of a corner kick which was scrambled home.

Shane Benjamin the league's leading goalscorer finishing the game with a total of four goals, Dean Rathbone getting the other

Saddlers land Shrews clash

TOM BRADSHAW will get the chance to shoot down his former club after Walsall were again paired against Shrewsbury in the FA Cup.

For the second year running, the Saddlers will host the Shropshire side in the first round. Dean Smith's men will be hoping to secure a similar result after running out 3-0 winners.

BATCHELOR HAS DEBUT DOUBLE

Oxford City 0 Hednesford Town 3

HEDNESFORD Town made the most of playing against 10 men for over an hour as they recorded a convincing 3-0 victory.

The win against Oxford City came thanks to two goals from debutant Richard Batchelor and a first for the club for Glenn Walker.

The Pitmen were looking to get back to winning ways in the league after last Saturday's 1-1 draw against Bradford Park Avenue, whilst also hoping to catch up points on a City side that started the day in the play-off places.

The home side began on the front foot and forced a number of corners inside the opening 15 minutes, all of which were dealt with by the Hednesford defence.

Town were presented with an opening in the 17th minute as following a strong challenge by Ben Bailey he found himself inside the area but instead of shooting he tried to find Steve Diggin and the ball was cut out.

Indebted

Four minutes later Hednesford were indebted to captain Darren Campion when City midfielder Tom Winters rounded Dan Crane in the Town goal before seeing his shot cleared off the line by Campion and cleared further from danger by Chris Westwood.

Five minutes before the break Oxford were reduced to 10 men as Declan Benjamin was shown a red card for a dangerous two-footed lunge on Diggin.

most of the advantage in first half stoppage time when Batchelor got on the end of Tom Thorley's cross to head in.

The second period got off to a lively start and Crane had to react quickly to deny Adi Yusef when he found himself through on goal.

The Pitmen should really have doubled their lead 10 minutes into the second period as Thorley broke the offside trap but his driven effort was saved by goalkeeper Nathan Abbey.

A second goal would eventually arrive in the 66th minute though as Hednesford broke away from a City corner and Campion's cross was caressed into the net at the back post by Walker to double his team's lead.

Three minutes later there would be a lengthy delay in the game as Batchelor took a clearance from Bailey full in the face, leading to the former being forced off for a small time with a bloodied nose.

On the 88th minute the third arrived as Thorley found an unmarked Batchelor whose header found the bottom corner.
